The Riddance Sale!

The Great Bargain Giver!

The Riddance Sale which we launched out a few weeks ago, without much ado, has reached such proportions that we find ourselves drawn onward with the jam, the crowd, and the multitude of buyers so that, in fact, were we to withdraw this sale, now at its height, it would cause wide-spread lamenting. But we are not yet in a position to say: "We have too much room," or to say, "No use to throw away our hard earnings," by selling goods at cost, or less. We still require more space in order to place our business on the right road, and if prices during this week will deplete our stock, we are willing.

GEN. CROOK holds the renegade Apaches as prisoners of war, and will not give them up to the bloodthirsty Gov. Zulick.

VACAVILLE has lost a good many peach trees from a recent cold spell. Let's see; is Vacaville in the "northern citrus belt?"

THE viticulturists, marshalled by Generalissimo Wetmore, are moving resolutely upon the Government Works in Washington, and it will be strange if they do not secure some favorable legislation. Doctored wines must go down.

GLADSTONE'S Cabinet is said to be doomed. Crisis succeeds crisis, and, after these—the deluge. It is just possible that England may turn to a republic before the Prince of Wales has a chance to mount the throne.

THE speech of President Bonebrake, of the Board of Trade, at the annual meeting last night, is clear, forcible and business-like. It does not seem so very unreasonable after all to figure out a population of 57,000 for Los Angeles.

THE Anaheim Gazette notes the appointment of Anaheim as the place of holding the next session of the Pomological Society, and wants to hold a grand Fourth of July demonstration simultaneously with it. Perhaps the pomological speakers will not object to a few pyrotechnics.

SOME dissatisfaction is expressed that the Council has so summarily dropped the project of enlisting the State Engineer in our river front improvements. There is some official correspondence, coming through the Board of Trade early in February, which still awaits recognition.

WE print this morning an interesting letter from our special correspondent at Fort Bowie. He writes a private note, dated April 1st, in which he says: "I have more good notes now than I could write out in a steady week, even if no more turned up. There is a first-rate chance for another expedition from here after Geronimo; and if it goes, I shall. My letters will get better, I trust. The old uncramped feeling is just beginning to come back. What a noble old Roman Crook is! His silent, unflinching heroism makes the blood tingle in me. If ever there was an honorable task in letting in the light on a libeled career, here it is." No man who served with Crook in the war of the rebellion, as did the writer of these latter lines, is surprised to hear such words as the above from an enthusiastic young fellow like "Lum," suddenly thrown into the presence of the "Grey Fox" on the border.

Full Operas.

Signor A. Farini, who recently gave Los Angeles an operatic entertainment with the most marked success, announces another season of opera for May 7th and 8th. The performances will be Friday evening, Saturday matinee and Saturday evening. The cast is as follows: Friday, Martha—"Lady Harriet," Miss Wiseman; "Nancy," Miss Ida Wiseman; "Lord Tristan," R. E. Lander; "Plunkett," Signor A. Farini; "Lionel," A. L. Jeffrey and Charles Auerbach; "The Sheriff," B. C. Holmes.

Saturday evening, Il Trovatore—"Leonora," Mrs. W. H. Gilbert; "Azucena," Miss Ida Wiseman; "Inez," Miss M. Cowper; "Manrico," Charles Auerbach; "Count de Luna," Signor A. Farini; "Fernando," R. E. Lander; "Ruiz," N. Turner.

At the Saturday matinee Martha will be repeated, with Miss Winston in the Miserere scene from Il Trovatore; also Miss Carter and Miss Conger in different scenes.

The operas are to be given in full costume and with a full orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Paulsen.

War-time Relics.

Officer Weed yesterday showed a TIMES reporter relics of the war times in the shape of several shinplasters or scrip, issued in 1863 by the Board of Police of Scott county, Miss., payable on demand at the Treasurer's office (when there was money) and receivable for all dues to the County. They are signed R. W. Bond, clerk, and range in value from 5 cents to half a dollar. The paper is thin tissue, just the kind which would not stand great wear, and consequently diminish the chances of the scrip ever being presented for collection. Scott county, Miss., is indebted to Mr. Weed in the sum of $1.15, but he means to be lenient with them.

An Impudent Drunkard.

Last night at 10:30 a drunken individual, who was recognized by two persons, though they could not tell his name, coolly took the buggy belonging to E. K. Green, hitched in front of the Baker block, and drove off, whilst Mr. Green was attending the Board of Trade meeting. He was seen later riding furiously down Aliso street. Up to an early hour this morning the drunken thief had not been caught, but his arrest is certain. The buggy is an open one, and the animal attached to it is a roan mare.

The War Still On.

Notwithstanding the reports from the East of the wind-up of the railroad war, cut rates from this point East and vice versa still obtain. A representative of the California Southern said yesterday that he had received no notice to elevate either passenger or freight rates; that first-class limited tickets to Kansas City were selling at $30, with $25 rebate, and third-class $20, with $15 rebate. The rate between Kansas City and Chicago has been put back to the old figure, $12.50.

Fine Orange and Lemon.

One of the fine young orange trees and one of the lemons exhibited by Mr. Baldridge at the late Citrus Fair have been sent to the TIMES office, and are exhibited in the business office. They are not quite a year old, but show a growth of ten feet and are as straight as arrows. Mr. Baldridge has discovered a method to train Navel orange buds so that they will have an upward habit, throwing out strong top branches at just the proper angle. He has promised to describe his method at length for the benefit of readers of the TIMES.

A Hardened Offender.

Frank Lorenzana was sentenced to $15 or 15 days' imprisonment some days ago for stealing billiard cues. The sentence was suspended for a few days at the instance of his mother, to enable her to raise the fine money. Meanwhile Lorenzana burglarized H. J. Brown's room in the Phillips Block, and stole therefrom a satchel and some clothes valued at $55. He was arrested on Saturday and examined yesterday. Justice Austin, in default of bail in $750, committed him to jail.

Election of Officers.

At the annual meeting of directors and stockholders of the Los Angeles Oil Burning and Supply Company, the old directory was re-elected, as follows: L. W. Mitchell, Col. H. H. Markham, Sutherland Hutton, N. Blankenhorn, F. C. Howes. The officers for the ensuing year are: L. W. Mitchell, President; F. C. Howes, Vice-President and Treasurer; N. Blankenhorn, Secretary.

ON THE TRAIL.

Another Party in Pursuit of Geronimo.

THE STORY OF A CAPTIVE WHITE BOY.

The Sheriff of Cochise County Demands Chihuahua and the Other Indian Prisoners—Crook Refuses.

Special Dispatch to the Times.

FORT BOWIE, A. T., April 5.—Frank Bennett, a scout, arrived last night from Lang's Ranch. He left there Thursday. Capt. Dorst, having just received news of Geronimo's escape, was starting with 135 men to follow the hostiles into Mexico. He took thirty days' rations, and said he would go on for twenty days at least. The six months' enlistment of his Indian scouts expires this month, so that he cannot make a longer campaign.

Santiago McKinn, the 11-year old white boy, the Apaches' prisoner taken with Geronimo's band, will be sent home to-morrow. It is learned that his parents were not killed, but reside at Hot Springs, at Hunter's, N. M., near the railroad, from Deming to Silver City. During his half-year of captivity the lad has grown fully Indianized. He joins their sports, and will have nothing to do with the whites. He understands English and Spanish, but can hardly be induced to speak in either. He has learned the Apache language and talks it exclusively.

Sheriff Hatch, of Cochise county, came up the other day, with a warrant for Geronimo and forty-one John Does. General Crook told him to make his demand in writing. He did not do so till he got back to Tombstone. To-day a written demand was received from him for Chihuahua and the other renegades. General Crook replied that the Chiricahuas are held as prisoners of war, under instructions from Washington, and will not be given up. LUM.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Newspapers and the Typographical Union—Boyton's Swim.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The Call and Bulletin printing offices were yesterday declared "Union" offices. Sixty-eight printers out of the 118 employed in those offices have been admitted to membership in the Typographical Union. The cases of the remaining fifty are to be submitted to the joint committee of arbitration, whose decision will be final. It was agreed that these fifty printers should retain their positions until their cases have been arbitrated upon, and a decision rendered. All matters of dispute between the printers of the Call and Bulletin offices and the Typographical Union, have under this arrangement been finally settled.

BOYTON'S LONG SWIM.

Paul Boyton, the noted swimmer, to-day completed his arduous task of swimming down the Sacramento river from Red Bluff to this city, in his rubber suit. He expected to arrive yesterday, but the tides were against him, and he was compelled to stop over at Saucelito. He resumed his swim this morning, and reached the Broadway wharf at noon. He was met by a host of people, who greeted him with prolonged cheering.

SUIT ENTERED AGAINST SHERIFF GARD.

Meyer M. Lowenthal has brought suit in the Superior Court against the Sheriff of Los Angeles county for $4000 damages and $2000 counsel fees. Lowenthal claims that the stock of Henry Siegel's furnishing store, valued at $30,000 in Los Angeles, was assigned to him last December. Two days afterward the Sheriff took possession of the store and still retains the same, and therefore plaintiff asks judgment against the Sheriff for the amount above stated.

THE RATE WAR.

End of the Fight—The Rival Roads Gobble Pacific Mail.

NEW YORK, April 5.—"Rates will not be extended beyond to-morrow," was said at the transcontinental offices to-day, "but notice of an official kind has not yet been received declaring the war over." In railway circles it is generally believed, however, that the war is ended, and a rumor is in circulation that the delay in announcing that fact is occasioned by trouble experienced by the Atchison and Sunset in securing a controlling interest in Pacific Mail. It is said that one of the points settled at the meeting in Huntington's house last week, was that the Atchison and Sunset should generally buy Pacific Mail stock and get control of the steamship company in order to settle the question of the subsidy to Pacific Mail. It is stated that J. W. Seligman & Co., representatives of the Atchison, and C. P. Huntington have been buying Pacific Mail on the market for some time. It is also rumored that a meeting took place at the Hoffman House on Sunday; that C. P. Huntington, Sidney Dillon and Russell Sage were present, and that the meeting was had with reference to the Pacific Mail plan just mentioned. It was said this afternoon that the official announcement of peace would not now be long delayed, because enough Pacific Mail stock had been secured to insure control, and that after to-morrow the line would be under the direction of the two railroad lines.

Eastern Sympathy for John.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The following notice appears in all the papers this morning: "Chinese Outrages—A meeting to protest against the abuse of Chinamen will be held at Steinway Hall to-night. The public is invited." The Commercial Advertiser says, editorially:

"Attention is called to the meeting at Steinway Hall to-night to protest against the abuse of the Chinese in our country, and to indorse and adopt a memorial to Congress calling for a consideration of the matter. The meeting is to be held under the auspices of the Chinese Sunday-school Union. A number of leading citizens will take part in the proceedings. No reasonable, law-loving man, even though he oppose the further settling of Chinese in this country, can defend the recent brutal massacre of unoffending Chinese."

Irrigators in Council.

FRESNO, April 5.—The Legislative Committee of the State Irrigation Convention met this afternoon. Present: J. De Barth Shorb (chairman), J. H. Wharton, W. T. Green, R. Hudnut, L. B. Ruggles, E. H. Tucker, D. K. Zumwalt, H. S. Dixon. Absent: L. M. Holt. An address to the members of the convention and to the public was read by Mr. Wharton, and adopted. Articles of association and by-laws of the Anti-Riparian Irrigators' clubs were read and adopted, and it was urged that clubs be organized accordingly throughout the State. A meeting was called to-night to organize a club here according to the suggestion. The committee then adjourned. The address calls for a State irrigation convention to meet in San Francisco May 20th.

Peach Trees Killed.

VALLEJO, April 5.—The news comes from Vacaville, that a large number of peach trees have died this spring in that vicinity. It is said that Senator Parker will lose 1500. The death of the trees is accounted for by the statement that a warm spell about six weeks ago, started a vigorous flow of sap in the trees, which was soured by subsequent cold weather, and resulted fatally. The wet and cold condition of the ground also had their effect.

The Santa Barbara Election.

SANTA BARBARA, April 5.—The city election passed off quietly. It is supposed that Mayor Coffin is re-elected. Considerable interest was taken owing to the unusual number of candidates in the field for every city office.

Dr. Crooks Gets New Bail.

SANTA BARBARA, April 5.—Dr. Crooks, who was recently surrendered by his sureties, obtained bail to-day.

THE VITICULTURISTS.

They Request Legislation Favoring the Wine Industry.

ST. HELENA, Cal., April 5.—The resolutions adopted at the viticultural meeting approve Wharton J. Green's bill before Congress defining pure wines and taxing compounded liquors, and urge the friends of industry and labor to secure its passage. They also approve the efforts of producers of sweet wines to procure legislation permitting the use, without taxation, of grape spirits to the extent needed to preserve them, but recognize as important to the State the preservation of the purity of light dry table wines, and therefore request the representatives in Congress to make known to the officers of the general government that all bills providing for free spirits in fortifying wines should be carefully prepared; that under no circumstances, except for exportation, shall free spirits be used in fortifying dry wines, and further than this, the essential features of any bill for this purpose should be first, grape spirits, free from tax, for fortifying sweet wines containing a certain fixed degree of sugar, as shown by density. This privilege is to be accorded only to producers of sweet wines who distill their own grape spirits, except that in the case of exportation, grape spirits may be added to fortify any wines, dry or sweet, according to the demand of foreign markets, free of tax, under supervision of officers of internal revenue; second, the privilege of a free fortification of sweet wine for domestic use to be limited to 22 per cent. of absolute alcohol, including the strength acquired by fermentation; all wines containing more than 22 per cent. of alcohol, and not more than 26, to be taxed for each degree over 22 per cent., a double tax on the alcohol for such additional strength, and all wines containing more than 26 per cent. of alcohol, not intended for exportation, to be forfeited to the United States; third, that no spirits for fortifying wine free from tax, except those produced by distillation from grape products, be permitted.

Other resolutions declare that the revenue laws should be amended so as to extend the time of bonding brandies, the wine growers claiming that no limitation as to the time for bonding can be legally fixed, but the bonding period ought not to be less than eight years. Distillers should have the privilege, under the original distillers' stamps, of breaking up their products into any sized packages required for trade; that the special internal revenue tax on retailers of domestic wines should be abolished, and that the resolutions be sent to the Representative of this district, requiring him to make the same known to Congress.

TURF TOPICS.

The Blood-Horse Races—Maud S. Again.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The following is the official list of entries for the blood horse races to-morrow: Mile—Nielson, 117; Garland, 113; Ichi Ban, 115; Mozart, 94; Preciosa, 97; Rapido, 115; Miss Courtney, 97. California stakes, half mile—Robson, 110; Graciosa, 107; Napa, 107; Leap Year, 107; Del Norte, 110; Modesto, 110; Rathbone, 110; Narcota, 107; Voltigeur, 110; Chatelaine, 107. Trial stakes, mile and quarter—Bennett, 117; Tyrant, 118; John A., 122; Patti, 97. Winter stakes—walk-over for Haggin; mile and sixteenth—Ingleside, 82; Leda, 87; Duke of Monday, 99; Gerster, 77; Moonlight, 97; Billy Ayres, 108.

MORE ABOUT MAUD S.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The Bulletin this evening publishes a special from Philadelphia of an interview with W. W. Bair, who for eight years piloted the celebrated Maud S., in which he says: "Maud S. is to-day the greatest trotting horse in the world. I doubt if the horse has been born yet that can beat her. She could have made more money for her owner than any horse that ever lived, but she always has been in bad hands for money making. None of her owners would ever allow her to make any money. The time she was under my charge she never made a mistake and never broke. She would try just as hard to win a race as any man would. Now she will be taken to the banker's private track, where she will be worked quietly, and if she don't do better you will never hear of Maud S. again."

VALUABLE RACERS BURNED.

NEW YORK, April 5.—A fire occurred at the racing stables in Kirkville, Long Island, yesterday, and out of a stable consisting of Spartacus, Reva, Charley Kempland, Chiocha, Counterfeit and Periolus, all owned by William Macheabon, Chiocha and Periolus only escaped with slight burns. Reva perished in the flames and Charley Kempland had to be killed. Counterfeit was fearfully burned about the head and shoulders and will lose the sight of one eye. Spartacus was terribly burned on his back, his blankets having been almost completely consumed before being removed.

GREAT BRITAIN.

Gladstone's Cabinet Doomed—Explorer Stanley's Parentage.

LONDON, April 5.—The breaking up of the cabinet is imminent. Lord Kimberly, Sir William Harcourt, Mr. Childs and Mr. Mundalk refused to consent to any home rule measure giving Ireland control of customs, and threatened to resign if such measure be insisted upon by Gladstone. Gladstone, however, remains inflexible, and will maintain his full scheme intact. The climax will be reached on Tuesday. The ministers themselves admit that an agreement seems improbable.

CLAIMED TO BE STANLEY'S MOTHER.

A Mrs. Jones, who died recently at Bodelwydean in the northern part of Wales, claimed before her death that she was the mother of Henry M. Stanley. She stated that an entry of his birth can be found in the record of the local surgery, and that the surgeon who had charge of the establishment at the time subsequently traced Stanley until the latter went over to America. It is proposed to erect a monument over the woman's grave recording the fact that she was the mother of the famous explorer.

The English Grain Market.

LONDON, April 5.—The Mark Lane Express, in its review of the British grain trade during the past week, says: Trade in native wheat in London is very much depressed. In the provinces the markets are irregular. Sales of English wheat during the week were 61,240 quarters, at 30 shillings, 5 pence, against 51,983 quarters at 32 shillings, 6 pence, during the corresponding week last year. Flour is freely delivered. Prices are maintained, however, owing to increased consumption arising from a scarcity of vegetables. Barleys are in buyers' favor. Trade in foreign wheat is without feature. Sellers are firm, and buyers are apathetic. American mixed corn on Friday sold at 20 shillings, ex-ship. Trade forward is fairly brisk. Several cargoes of California brought 25 shillings, 6 pence, to 26 shillings per quarter. Foreign wheat is firmly held, but the demand was slow. Other articles were quiet but steady.

A Singular Crime.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., April 5.—Isadora Seidenbaum, 18 years old, entered the sleeping room of Annie Rosenstein at an early hour this morning, and after shooting her killed himself. The murdered girl was only fifteen years old, and was sleeping with two younger sisters. Seidenbaum had been staying at the house as a guest of the girl's parents. There is no known cause for the deed.

The Boycott.

STOCKTON, April 5.—The Executive and Arbitration Committee of the Federated Trades have ordered a boycott on the Stockton Woolen Mills in which Chinese are employed.

SAN JOSE, April 5.—A general boycott as to Santa Clara county has been ordered by the Executive Committee of the anti-Chinese Non Partisan associations of this county to begin April 20.

Hurrah for San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, April 5.—The census of San Diego is completed and shows 6203 persons. National City is not included.

THE WAGE WAR.

Texas Militia On Guard at Fort Worth.

GOULD DECLARES THE STRIKE ENDED.

A Tricky Detective Arrested for Attempting to Inveigle Prominent Knights of Labor into a Trap.

Associated Press Dispatches to the Times.

FORT WORTH, Tex., April 5.—Militia from Dallas, composed of two companies of the Dallas Light Guards, twenty-four strong, and the Hibernian Rifles, twelve strong, arrived here on a special train about 3 o'clock this morning, and were quartered in the Union Depot. A few hours later a special train from Harrold brought the Rangers, twelve strong. The south-bound Missouri Pacific train brought the Grayson Rifles, twenty-five strong. On the afternoon train came the Decatur Rifles, thirty-two strong, the Austin Greys, twenty-three strong, the Texas Rifles, thirty-five strong, Cleburne Light Guards, twenty-five strong, and Alvarado Guards, thirty-two strong. At 5 o'clock a special west-bound Texas Pacific train brought the Crawford Battery, under Capt. Horston, twelve strong. The troops here now number 235 men. Adjutant General King, Brig. A. S. Roberts, Attorney General Templeton, Inspector General P. Smith and Col. W. P. Gaines are on the ground. The railroad yards are lined with soldiers, and no one dares venture on the railroad property.

District Judge Packham was called into consultation with the railroad officials, the result being that a freight train was sent south under a guard of Grayson Rifles and a special force of fifteen citizens. Another train was at once made up and sent north, also under guard, and shortly after a third train pulled out going south.

A SIGNIFICANT WARNING.

This morning the following notice was found placarded at the postoffice and other prominent places in the neighborhood of the freight depot:

"Please do not sacrifice your lives by being shoved out on trains by government officers or Gould's petty officers. Last call. Fair warning."

It is thought that most of the strikers' force is outside of town, and that an attack will be made on some central points just as the attack of Saturday was made. Adjt. Gen. King anticipates some movement of this kind, but will say nothing. The mere fact that heavy artillery is being brought shows that the authorities fear the worst.

REASSURING DISPATCHES.

NEW YORK, April 5.—The following dispatches were received this morning at the office of the Missouri Pacific Railway in this city:

FORT WORTH, April 5.—Quiet prevails here this morning. Seven companies of State troops and one company of artillery have arrived from Galveston. There moved yesterday three trains south on the Missouri Pacific and two trains on the Texas Pacific. No resistance was offered either in the city or country. A good many strikers are arriving at Fort Worth from other places.

PARSONS, Kan., April 5.—The situation is steadily improving, and all trains are moving free. The best of the old force are applying for work, and forty of them have been re-employed. The master mechanic has a surplus of applications from new men, but is giving the old employés the preference.

GOV. IRELAND ON HAND.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—A special from Fort Worth to the Post-Dispatch says: Gov. Ireland arrived here this morning from the capital of the State, and has been in consultation with the railway officials and military. When the Governor's train stopped at Waco, on its way here, last night, several strikers mounted the engine and "killed" it. Another engine was procured, and the train arrived this morning without further hindrance. Gov. Ireland said that he was determined that the railroad officials must be permitted to run their trains, even if it required the assistance of every man in the State able to bear arms to aid in accomplishing this end.

The report that the strikers had torn up sections of the track south of this city proved, upon investigation, to be untrue. A box of dynamite cartridges, however, was found concealed near the Union depot.

GOULD.

He Declares the Strike Practically Ended.

NEW YORK, April 5.—On being interviewed yesterday, Jay Gould said: "The strike on our railroads is practically over. It will be a thing of the past very soon. I have been astonished at much of the revelations that have come through the disturbances, but nothing has been so surprising as the proof that I have had of the weakness of the Knights of Labor. So great was my apprehension as to the strength of the Knights of Labor, and so great was my fear of what might come from the fight made by them that for over a year we have been carrying hundreds of men on the Missouri Pacific railroad's payroll for whom e really had no need. We were paying their wages only because we were apprehensive of difficulties following a strike inaugurated by the Knights."

GOULD CONTRADICTS TURNER.

Secretary Turner of the Executive Committee of Knights of Labor, having stated yesterday in St. Louis that Mr. Hoxie was not acting in conformity with the terms of the agreement entered into at the New York conference, Mr. Gould was to-day interviewed upon the subject and said: "The stenographer's notes of the New York conference show that there was no agreement, direct or implied, that the company would take all the men back with some comparatively few exceptions. On the contrary, they show that not one of the committee expected the company to take back any men not needed, or any who had anything to do with the damage to property of the company or the obstruction to the running of its trains. Mr. Powderly said that if the company would supply him with the names of these law-breakers, they would be expelled from the Order. The whole committee was very positive that its orders to return to work would be generally obeyed, and asserted most positively that those who refused to obey its orders would be put out of the Order, and to use the words of one of the committee 'kept out of it forever.'"

A TRICKSTER TRAPPED.

One of Gould's Detectives Beaten at His Own Game.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—Frank McKeighan, a telegraph operator, was arrested yesterday and has made a confession which will create a sensation. He says that recently he entered into an arrangement with Thomas Furlong, Chief of the Gould System's Secret Service, whereby Martin Irons, A. C. Coughlan and other prominent leaders of the Knights of Labor were to be arrested. A room was engaged in the third story of a building at No. 23 Market street, past the windows of which ran a private telegraph wire on which H. M. Hoxie, Vice-President of the Missouri Pacific railway, was in almost constant communication with Gould. McKeighan engaged another operator named Nichols to assist him, and the two men soon tapped the wire and had their instrument at work. The arrangement was to have Irons, Coughlan and others in the room intercepting messages between Hoxie and Gould, when the police would make a descent on the place and capture the whole outfit. The signal for the descent was to be a lamp placed in one of the windows. On Friday night the detectives and a squad of police were ready, and the lamp appeared in one of the windows of the second floor. A rush was made for the room, but a poor woman engaged in running a sewing machine was the only person found. The raiders then learned that they were in the wrong room and at once ascended to the third floor, where McKeighan was found alone. Chief Harrigan heard of the matter, and McKeighan's arrest followed.

NOTES.

A Strike of Switchmen on the Chicago and Alton.

ST. LOUIS, April 5.—A new development in the strike on the east side of the river, and one which occasioned considerable surprise and uneasiness among railway officials, occurred this morning, when the Chicago and Alton switch engineers struck. They say they will not go back to work until the trouble between the railroads and their employés is settled, and they feel confident that their brotherhood will support them.

TEN FREIGHT TRAINS SENT OUT.

St. Louis, April 5.—The Iron Mountain sent out five trains to-day and the Missouri Pacific an equal number, no opposition being offered by strikers. The resumption of freight traffic on these roads may now be considered complete, and the raising of the blockade on that branch of the company's business permanent.

NATIONAL NOTES.

The Nolan Land Case—Appointments and Confirmations.

WASHINGTON, April 5.—The Secretary of the Interior has denied the application of counsel for a rehearing in the celebrated Nolan land grant case in New Mexico, and has directed the Commissioner of the General Land Office to proceed to take proper action to carry out the Secretary's orders restoring to the local land office the plats of the survey of the grant, that the same may be thrown open for settlement. About 575,000 acres are thus restored to the public domain.

The President has appointed the following postmasters: Wesley E. Hughes, at Fresno, Cal.; James Tyson, at Placerville, Cal., and John McCann, at Martinez, Cal.

CONFIRMED.

The Senate to-day confirmed William T. Trenholm as Comptroller of the Currency.

THE CHINESE QUESTION.

Mexico Proves Not Exactly a Mongolian Mecca.

GUAYMAS (Mexico), April 5.—The steamer Altata brings news of a large anti-Chinese demonstration, ending in a riot at Mazatlan, March 28. When the steamer Romero Rubio was coming into port she was erroneously reported as being the steamer Sardonyx, which it was known had six thousand Chinese aboard. An immense mob formed on the wharf, and after the mistake was explained, paraded the streets crying, "down with the Chinese." The police were unable to disperse them. They made an attack on the China houses, breaking the doors, windows and furniture. No blood was shed. The Chinamen fled the town. Troops have been sent for anticipating more trouble when the Sardonyx arrives.

A Confession by Tai Duck.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The Evening Post this afternoon publishes a statement that Tai Duck, the murderer of Jesse Wickersham and wife, near Cloverdale, who escaped on the steamer Rio de Janeiro to China, made a confession while on board the steamer, to a Chinese quartermaster, that he had committed the crime. The quartermaster will be called as a witness when the case comes to trial.

Rain at San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 5.—The rain which began falling here late this evening still continues, with prospects of continuing all night.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

The House yesterday passed the Mexican Pension bill.

The Right Hon. Wm. E. Forster, a member of Gladstone's former cabinet, died yesterday.

Advices from Athens indicate that the present Greek ministry is determined to declare war against Turkey.

President Egan, of the American League, yesterday telegraphed to Dublin a denial that the League is opposed to Parnell's peaceful policy.

At the annual meeting of the Panama Railway Company yesterday the old board of directors was re-elected with the exception of E. P. Fabbri, whose place was filled by J. H. Wright. The reports showed decreased earnings during the year and increased expenses.

Board of Supervisors.

MONDAY, April 6.

Board met pursuant to adjournment. All present.

On motion of Supervisor Hinds, Seward Cole was appointed viewer of Barrows road.

A petition was received from H. Sinsabaugh and others, asking that the new jail be located at the southeast corner of the jail lot. Filed.

The County Surveyor was notified to define the lines of the Bullis road and to notify Omri Bullis of the day on which he will do such work.

Supervisor Hinds moved that $50 be appropriated from the Ballona road district fund to be paid to George McMullen when Perth street is opened and proper deeds filed, and that the road overseer be notified to construct a culvert over the zanja.

The petition of Mrs. E. J. Cole for rebate of assessment, was referred to the County Assessor.

The County Recorder was allowed three office deputies for the month of April at $100 each, and Messrs. Pritchard, Averill and Bray were approved as such deputies.

Adjourned until April 6, at 10 a. m.

Mr. Scott's Antics.

Something of a sensation was created on Sunday at Santa Monica by four young clerks in Los Angeles stores, who arrived at the seaside considerably under the influence of "O! be joyful!" They came in a buggy and proceeded to enliven themselves on the beach. One of them, named Scott, with whom whisky did not agree, was suddenly seized with a desire to have his girl weep over his dead body, and deliberately walked out into the sea, completely dressed. When he got into the water deep enough to cover his knees he lay down and calmly expected death. Some of the bathers wouldn't let him die and pulled him out. But he was bound to shuffle off his mortal coil and started for the "Jordan" once more. He swallowed considerable salt water and when labored with and manipulated, the salt water and whisky came out together and he saw the error of his ways. He then quit and came back to town. O! be joyful.

The Mudholes on Eighth Street.

A lady correspondent who signs "Mother" says she has had to keep her two children away from Eighth Street School, owing to the prevalence of scarlet fever in that vicinity. She refers to several mudholes in the streets near the school and on Hope street, as the causes of the unhealthful condition of her neighborhood. Dr. Baker, the health officer of this city, being interviewed upon the subject by a TIMES reporter states that there have been a few cases of scarlatina in that direction, and that there are a few there yet, but he denies that the sickness is due to the mudholes complained of. They are too small to be practically dangerous. The property owners are all anxious to see them disappear and as the street is to be graded at once, it is hoped that no further complaints will have to be recorded.

Santa Monica Notes.

The weather is delightful down at the beach and the sea is smooth.

The old breakwater looks terribly dilapidated, though a few attempts have been made to bolster it up a bit. The pensive fisherman is much cast down thereby.

There are gamblers, cappers and tutti quanti sojourning amongst the unsophisticated of our seaside resort.

The work on the Arcadia Hotel begins to assume shape. Bricks are being burned, lumber procured and the foundations for the stately pile are visible to the naked eye.

Bold, brave campers are already preempting tent sites on the beach. There are now two tents and several shanties up.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Annual Meeting for Election of Officers.

SPEECH OF PRESIDENT BONEBRAKE.

Report of Secretary A. M. Lawrence—What the Board Has Accomplished in the Past Year.

The annual meeting of the Board of Trade convened last night at the chambers of this association for the purpose of electing its officers for the ensuing year, President George H. Bonebrake being in the chair. There were present about thirty of the members of the Board. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and approved. President Bonebrake then made his report in the following words:

ADDRESS OF PRESIDENT BONEBRAKE.

The history of the Board of Trade during the past year would be too tedious for recital this evening. The reports of the attorneys and the Secretary no doubt will go more into particulars. Suffice it to say that the commercial transactions have exceeded those of any other year, and the results exhibit the wisdom of a central organization through which commercial misfortunes may be adjusted. As a medium for the distribution of information in reference to our city and the surrounding country this board has done good work not only by its publications, but by replying directly to hundreds of letters of inquiry. But more particularly has a good work been accomplished by the convenience with which the whole commercial influence of the city has been brought to bear upon any question which might possibly benefit our people or enhance the importance of Los Angeles as a commercial center or a desirable place of residence.

During the year two of our members have died, J. E. Hollenbeck and J. H. Seymour, and truly Death loves a shining mark, for his winged shaft could not have pierced the heart of two nobler members. Everyone knew Hollenbeck as a self-made man of wealth and intelligence, with a big heart overflowing with generosity and good deeds. Mr. Seymour was an active, conscientious business man, one of the Directors and Treasurer of this Board. He was always on time for business, an active energetic and liberal man, and most beloved by those who had the advantage of being nearest to him. The death of these men is a loss not only to our organization but to the entire commercial and social community.

A few questions of great importance have commanded the special attention of the Board.

First—The use of free spirits in the manufacture of sweet wines.

Second—The improvement of San Pedro harbor commensurate with our growing importance. Much has already been accomplished, the channel having an average depth now of ten feet, while only a few years ago the average depth did not exceed that many inches. Eighty-five thousand dollars will probably be the amount we shall receive this session of Congress, with a good showing for a like amount at the next session.

Third—A division of the State for judicial purposes. Every person who knows anything about this question is aware of its importance. It is not only inconvenient, but often disastrous, for our people to be dragged to San Francisco, 500 miles away, to defend a civil suit or answer an insignificent criminal charge, and paying strange attorneys large fees for oftentime very poor service. Our people have compromised away thousands of dollars rather than suffer such annoyance and hardship. We shall probably not succeed in this matter, as those sections most interested are not only not for us, but openly opposed to Federal courts at Los Angeles.

Fourth—A building for the United States Courts, offices, and particularly a postoffice. The proper Congressional Committee has already recommended $150,000 for this purpose. In this matter we are not out of the woods, but can only hope that the perseverence, ability and untiring energy of our honored Congressional representative will accomplish much. There is no doubt in my mind that, under wise leadership and an undivided effort our leading men, using their personal and political influence, would not only secure us public buildings, but Federal Courts. And there certainly can be no disadvantage to either of the two great political bodies, as our present able and popular representative positively declines a renomination, preferring his pleasant, sunny home in Southern California to a palace with honors at Washington. If we all pull together we will win; every force must be utilized, and leading men should go to Washington and labor with their friends socially and politically to obtain the prize which is now so near our reach.

The unfortunate death of Senator Miller brought to our city a delegation of leading men from both houses of Congress, from various sections of the country, who were more than pleased with our beautiful State and its accustomed hospitality and upon whom we may draw for such favors as we deserve.

Los Angeles city and county have grown more rapidly in population and prosperity in the last year than during any other of its history. The weight of mail matter forwarded, the directory, the enumeration for school purposes, and what is more reliable than either, a comparison between the votes of 1880, with the census returns, and the vote of 1884, show that the city had a population of 35,000 and the whole county 70,000. 1880 and 1884 were both Presidential years, and a full vote was cast. In the former year there were 6068, and the population, according to the United States census returns, was in round numbers 33,000, which is almost 5½ persons for each vote cast. In the latter year 10,279 votes were cast, which, according to the same standard, would give us a population of 57,000. Assuming the same rate of increase for the two years 1885 and 1886—it has been much greater—we find that Los Angeles county has a population of 70,000. By the same manner of computation we find that this city has a population of 35,000 at least. I regard this to be as accurate a computation of population as can be made, and entirely reliable. There is little doubt that the past rate will be maintained for several years, until property is so valuable as to deter immigrants with moderate means from stopping here, or high taxes drive them away.

Our city government is excellent, and while the Council makes some mistakes, yet they are few. There should be more attention paid to the streets within the city limits. In fact, our city should be made in every respect a desirable place of residence—a city of schools, colleges, churches and hotels, parks and fine avenues, attracting by the culture and morality of its people.

During the year buildings have been erected in the city costing more than a million and a quarter of dollars—many of them very substantial business blocks. The volume of trade has materially increased with the population. The competition among commercial houses is very close, and the profits realized are not such as were customary in the early days of California. What we need is, not more merchants, but more manufactories, such as will consume the raw products of this section. So able and energetic were the members of the Committee on Manufactures appointed by your President, that they have organized a separate bureau and have done good work. Committee on Immigration has also organized an association and embraced all of Southern California, and, being well officered, have done a great work in presenting the merits of Southern California to the world. The citrus fair at Chicago is a success and a credit to to those who planned and executed the project. The ladies have not been idle and their flower festival is the most gorgeous exhibition of floral beauty ever beheld in this country or any other. The suggestion that next year the occasion shall be made a fete day meets my approval and the Board of Trade should second the efforts of the ladies in this respect. Whatever they do, they do well. The whole country is improving as rapidly as this city, and with this progress maintained for a few years this whole valley will be one vast fruit and flower garden, where health and wealth join hands and make happy people and happy homes.

The report of Treasurer M. D. Johnson, elected in the stead of his late partner, J. H. Seymour, was then read, which tallies with the Secretary's.

Secretary A. M. Lawrence's report, which was next read, is a very voluminous one, containing many statements and valuable suggestions. It shows that the receipts during the year of all sources have been $7,735.62 and the expenses $5,170 20, leaving cash on hand $2,565.42, an increase of $112.01 over last year.

The cases handled by the Board number 41, and are as follows: Settled 23, with liabilities at $132,747.34, and $108,806 31 assets, on which were realized $52,221 95.

There are pending 13 cases, with liabilities aggregating $59,994 01, and assets $26,404 93, on which $10,173.97 were realized.

On three cases aggregating $6886.11 in liabilities and $4000 in assets, nothing was realized, and two cases in which the liabilities are $850 62 were settled outside of the Board. These transactions show a grand total of liabilities $200,408.80, liabilities $139,211.26, realizes $62,395.87. The percentages are:

Assets to liabilities	69 46
Realization to liabilities	31.13
Dividend to liabilities	24 15
Realization to assets	44 82
Dividend to assets	34 77
Dividend to gross realization	77.58

The attorney's report shows that they brought 24 cases in the Superior Court and nine in the Justices Courts during the year just closed, and that attachments were issued in 18 actions.

The monies collected by them by means of suits, and without bringing suit, were $28,097.37, and they also collected during the year on old unfinished business $18,635.12, a total of $46,732 49.

The nomination of Directors being then in order, the names of Geo. H. Bonebrake, E. L. Stern, Eugene Germain, L. J. Mathews, M. D. Johnson, S. B. Lewis, J. B. Lankershim, W. J. Brodrick and Abe Haas were placed in nomination. Geo. H. Bonebrake declined the nomination. The result of the voting by ballot was as follows: L. J. Mathews 89, E. L. Stern 84, Eugene Germain 83, M. D. Johnson 82, W. J. Brodrick 75, S. B. Lewis 57, J. B. Lankershim 39, Abe Haas 32. The first six named were accordingly declared elected Directors for the ensuing year.

The election of the Finance Committee resulted as follows: J. N. Van Nuys, M. Reynolds, Abbott Kinney, G. J. Griffith, J. R. Mathews, J. S. Thayer, C. L. Northcraft, D. Ellsworth, F. E. Browne, M. Sanders.

A vote of thanks was then extended to the retiring officers and to Secretary A. M. Lawrence, and the meeting adjourned.

I. Harrison G. Otis has this day purchased of H. H. Boyce his entire interest in the establishment, and Mr. Boyce retires from the business.

The motto of the now united proprietors will be, "PUSH THINGS!"

V. All accounts due the TIMES-MIRROR Company are payable at the office, as usual, and all obligations owing by the Company will be paid by it.

H. H. BOYCE.

Mrs. Stanton and the Boys.

What shall be done with the city boys on Sunday? This is a question often asked, but seldom answered, and then not satisfactorily. There are, remarks Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, in the April number of the Forum, few means of entertainment provided for the boys on Sunday. To be sure, there are the street-cars for short rides to the parks in fine weather; walks in the sunshine; the fatal hospitality of the saloons; the Sunday-schools, the church services, or the youth may occupy himself with reading at home. With these, however, the multitudes of young men and boys congregate hour after hour on the street corners on Sunday in search of amusement. But it costs money to ride on street cars, many never go to Sunday-school, have no homes or books, and there must be some outlet somewhere for the boy spirits that are to be guided rather than repressed.

Mrs. Stanton suggests, or rather asks the question, whether it would not be rational for the municipal authorities to open the libraries, picture galleries, museums, menageries and concert halls; to multiply the facilities of transit to points of interest, and aid otherwise in various ways in bringing together the mind and that which will instruct and satisfy it. Schoolhouses and public halls, thrown open for courses of popular lectures, would prove, Mrs. Stanton believes, a great blessing to intelligent workingmen, particularly when the lectures were on the sciences or on travels. It is also suggested that the theaters should be made schools for moral instruction as well as places for entertainment, or at least three hours open to public readings, concerts, etc. Even the skating rinks might be furnished with fine bands of music, affording free and spirited entertainment and recreation to those who have little oportunity for cheerful and innocent amusement.

The city authorities might, Mrs. Stanton believes, make an appropriation for a corps of teachers expressly for Sunday, to give the multitude in all the public schools practical lessons in the rudiments of learning, music, drawing, games, deportment, gymnastics, etc. Some of these studies or pastimes might be introduced into the mission fields with excellent effect.

The remarkably successful work of Miss Charlotte Mulligan, in the city of Buffalo, for the benefit of boys, is described at length by Mrs. Stanton, as illustrating what one ingenious, intelligent, enthusiastic young woman can do, in charming a class of unruly boys, leading them to cleanliness, industry, sobriety, and respectability. One of this lady's plans was to invite the boys twice a week to her home, treat them to refreshments, tell them interesting stories, with a fine, healthful moral running through them, and step by step leading them on until she obtained their fullest confidence, helping them to find work, to better homes, better food and clothing, and made the teaching in the class a story-telling course. The result of this line of effort has been to make good men of wild boys. Over 3000 have already become men under this cheerful influence, and probably three-fourths of this number have remained faithful to their pledges, and many are filling responsible positions in the world of work.

AT FORT BOWIE.

The Apache Matter as Seen on the Ground.

GERONIMO'S SURRENDER AND ESCAPE.

A Sharp Set-Back on the Heels of a Glorious Success—The Silent, Grim Old Soldier.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

FORT BOWIE, A. T., April 1, 1886.—I passed Tuesday night very handily at Bowie station with Lieut. McDonald, the herculean and intelligent commanding officer of the cavalry stationed there. He came from Fort Yuma last December, when so many troops were called from the coast at Gov. Zulick's outcry. Gen. Crook never sent for them and never wanted them. He had already as many men as he could use. I find among them all, however, that intelligent appreciation of the Apache problem which is almost non est among straight civilians. Lieut. McDonald has seen Indian service himself, and gave me many good pointers. In the morning, after a very creditable cavalry drill, he had a good horse brought up by a mounted orderly. My blankets and papers were strapped to the cantle, and I set out across the plain with the orderly, headed for Fort Bowie, which nestles in the mountains fourteen miles southeast of the station. The road is a good one, and we cantered along easily through the hot forenoon, troubled by nothing but a bronchial affection—for water. At noon we had surmounted the three miles of tame cañon, and rode into which lies on a rather sharply-sloping bench of the mountain side, while down through a gap in the hills one looks across the wierd plain to a purple range 53 miles away. The Post is called Fort Bowie, though there is no fort and no fortification. It is hemmed in by ranges on every side, and stands at an altitude of 4781 feet. Behind it is the inevitable crag—in this case "Ellen's Dome"—from which a maiden threw herself to escape from the Indians. You know the mountainous country which cannot boast some such legendary cliff, is poor indeed. Around the generous plaza stand big, substantial adobes; and at the farther corner from the entrance, a French-roofed frame building of some pretentions, the residence of Col. Beaumont, Commander of the Post. Good water is pumped by steam-power from an adjacent hillside. There are about 100 soldiers stationed here, and I fancy they have a very fair sort of a time. The subpine is Number One, and everything as trim and taut as a man o'war.

We rode up to headquarters at once, and were met by Maj. C. S. Roberts, Adjutant General. He served on Crook's staff during the war, and is as genial a gentleman as one would care to meet. Gen. Crook and Gov. Zulick were having a pow-wow in Col. Beaumont's house, and did not conclude till one o'clock. Then emerged and strode down to the office where we were waiting. He read my credentials, welcomed me briefly, spoke a few non-committal words in answer to leading questions, and said: "For any information you may wish, I will turn you over to Capt. Burke. He is the best able to talk to you, and can give you everything accurately."

I like the grim old General. There is that in him which makes one want to take off one's hat. There never was a soldier who fought against heavier odds with stiffer upper lip. He has the same pallid, persistent, uncomplaining and unapologetic doggedness that was Grant's fundamental characteristic. To-day the most prominent figure in the army—the family one in the field—he occupies a larger place in public discussion than any other General. And in this exposed position, one of the fiercest fires is centered on him that ever whistled about a soldier's ears. Since the war none of its prominent commanders has been more persistently, more savagely, more cruelly hounded by jealousy, opposition and many another masked influence, than has Crook. Almost without exception the Territorial papers have damned him—not with "faint praise," but with bitterest invective. He has been cursed at, belittled and lied about, his policy misrepresented, his acts distorted, and alleged acts of his made up out of whole cloth. Some of these lies have already been nailed—as the one about his surrendering to the Apaches in the Sierra Madre in 1878. Others have not been; and some never will be. He is a soldier, not a war correspondent. Let the lying go on as it will, telegraphed from end to end of the country—but he never opens his mouth. He is here to fight, not to justify himself.

IT IS LIKE PULLING TEETH

to get anything out of him, and in his own defense he will not let out a word. He feels it, no doubt—he would be more than man if the poisoned shafts did not sting. Yes, the old man carries deeper wounds than the Apache arrow that still rankles in his thigh—but you would never know it from him. Every time I look at him some half-forgotten lines come up to mind. They describe the old grey wolf at bay. Who wrote them, you, who are nearer Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations," may hunt up:

"And with the pack, loud-baying,
His blood is all surrounds,
He dies in silence—biting hard
Amidst the yelping hounds."

Not that there is anything of the wolf about Crook so far as ferocity is concerned. He is not even bluff, but as kindly as he is resolute. But it is the same unwhimpering grit, the same deathless hold. The General is a tall, well-knit man, without an ounce of superfluous flesh. He is straight, but does not convey that impression, for his well-turned head has that peculiar droop of the habitual hard-thinker. It is as though the weight of care and thought behind the seamed forehead dragged it forward from its poise. The deep, clean lines that mark his face are rather touches of the hard brain-work he has put into this campaign. He is an indefatigable worker, and keeps at the knotty problems all day and well into the night. His heavy brown beard is again usurping his chin, which a few weeks ago was shaven. His forehead is high and broad; his eyes clear and penetrating; his nose large and a very decidedly hooked aquiline. He wears nothing to denote his rank or, even his profession, but paces thoughtfully up and down the porch in a plain, but neatly-kept civilian suit, topped by a big, buff slouch hat. As Geronimo's surrender, the other day, the General wore a duck coat and common canvas pants. I dined with him yesterday and though he was inclined to respond in his laconic way to general conversation, he was not to be pumped on the matter in hand. He didn't appear to evade, either, but simply said there was "nothing to tell."

THE STATE OF THE CAMPAIGN.

When I wrote to you night before last, we all supposed the campaign at an end. The hostiles had surrendered unconditionally to the "Grey Fox" (as the Apaches call Crook), and were on their way to the fort as prisoners. It was only upon arriving here yesterday noon that I learned the unwelcome news of Geronimo's escape. The particulars are rather meager, but we will know more to-morrow, when Lieut. Faison will get in with the rest of the captives. I have now the full particulars of the surrender, also, and will communicate them as fast as may be, with the speeches made on that occasion by the Apaches, taken down verbatim on the spot.

GOING TO THE CONFERENCE.

Having received the news from Lieut. Maus that Geronimo desired to surrender, Gen. Crook immediately started, on the morning of March 23d, for the San Bernardino rancho. This lies partly in Arizona, but mostly in Mexico, near the point where the lines of New Mexico, Old Mexico and Arizona come together. He was accompanied by Capt. Burke, Major Roberts and Master Charlie Roberts, a bright and nervy lad of eleven. They traveled in an ambulance, with relays and no escort, reaching the line in 90 miles. Thence they went by saddle 25 miles in Sonora, arriving at Lieut Maus's (Maus's) camp on the morning of the 25th. Geronimo and his band were camped in an impregnable stronghold upon a cañon-cleft hill a quarter of a mile from Maus, and saw them come. He sent word that he wanted to come down and have a talk with Crook. Before a reply could be got to him, he came down, accompanied by Nachita (commonly called Nashez) and several bucks. Geronimo said he wanted to talk with Grey Fox. Crook replied, "I am not here to talk with you, but to hear you talk." Geronimo began a long-winded palaver, explaining why he had gone on the war-path. Crook promptly shut him up, saying, "Geronimo,

YOU ARE A LIAR.

You have lied to me once, and I cannot believe you any more. You must decide at once to surrender unconditionally, or to stay in the mountains. If you decide to stay in the mountains, you may be sure that every last man of you will be hunted down and killed, if it takes us fifty years. Go back to your Village and think it over, and let me know what you decide. I want no delay about it."

Geronimo was terribly taken aback at this cold reception to his overtures. He pulled nervously at a string, and big drops of sweat stood out on his hands and forehead. He went back with his companions to their fastness to chew the cud of deliberation. During this conference, Chihuahua, the brains of the band, got back with his bucks from a raid in Sonora, driving a few ponies, and joined Geronimo on the hills.

CHIHUAHUA WEAKENS.

On the evening of the 26th, Chihuahua sent word to Gen. Crook that the bucks had been talking together all day, but had not yet reached a decision. But it made no difference what the rest did—he was going to surrender anyhow, and would come in that night, with his followers, if Crook would allow. But the Grey Fox was too shrewd for that. There was the very sort of leaven he wished to be working in the Apache camp; and he sent back word to Chihuahua that none would be received until all surrendered.

THE SURRENDER.

And next day they all came in—that is, all the chiefs, Geronimo, Kut-le, Chihuahua, Nana, and Nachita, with a few bucks—and met Crook. It was an interesting scene, down amid the savage wildness of the Cañon de los Embudos. Besides Crook there were present Capt. Burke, his right-hand man; Major Roberts and son, Lieut. Maus, Lieut. Faison, Dr. Davis, ex-Mayor Straus of Tombstone, Mr. Moore, master of transportation; Mr. Daly, and about eighty of Maus's Apache scouts—not to mention Mr. Fly, a nervy photographer from Tombstone, who had gone into Geronimo's fastness the day before (prior to the surrender), and "took" the whole place, and everyone in it. There were also the interpreters, José, Maria, Concepcion, Antonio Besias and Mr. Montoya.

CHIHUAHUA SPOKE FIRST.

A literal translation of his speech follows. It almost reminds one of a paragraph from Cooper. The Apache has a blarney stone of his own, and when he has a very big ax to grind, can flatter with the best of us. Chihuahua was talking for his life, which may excuse his poetical flights. He said:

"I am very glad to see you and have this talk with you. It is as you say—we shall always be in danger so long as we remain out here. But I hope from this time forward we will better with our families, and not do any harm to anybody. I am anxious to behave. I think the sun is looking down upon me, and the earth listening. I am thinking good things. It seems to me that I have seen the one who makes the rain and sends the winds—or he must have sent you to this place. I surrender myself to you because I believe in you, and you have never lied to us. You do not deceive us. You must be our God. I am satisfied with all that you do. You are, I think, the one who makes the grass pastures, who sends the rain and commands the winds. You must be the one who sends the fresh fruits that come on the trees every year. There are many men in the world who are great chiefs and command many people; but you must be the greatest of all, or you would not have come out here to see us. I want you to be a father to me and treat me as your son. I want you to have pity on me. There is no doubt that all you do is right, because all you do is just the same as if God did it. All you do is right. So I consider you to be. I trust in all you say. You do not lie. You do not deceive. All the things you tell me are true. I put in your hands all I place myself at your disposal. I surrender myself to you—do with me as you please. I shake your hand (grasping Crook's hand). I want to come right into your camp with my family, and stay there. I don't want to be away at a distance—I want to be right where you are. I have run in these mountains from water to water. I never found a place where I could see my father or my mother, till to-day, when I see you, my father. I surrender to you now, and I don't want any more bad feeling or bad talk. I am going over to stay with you in your camp. Whenever a man raises anything, even a dog, he thinks well of it and tries to raise it right and treats it well, even if it is a dog. So I want you to feel towards me and be good to me. Don't let people say bad things about me. Now I surrender to you and go with you. When we are traveling together on the road or anywhere else, I hope you will talk to me sometimes. I think a great deal of Alchesay and Kowtennay [two of Crook's Apache scouts], and they think a great deal of me. I hope some day to be all the same as their brother, and that you will think the same of me as you do of them. I would like you to send my family with me wherever you send me. I have a daughter at Camp Apache [the reservation] and other relatives of my companions and me. Wherever you want to send me, I wish you would also send them."

I have remarked that Chihuahua is the brains of the band. You will see from the above that he is also the cleverest talker. He seems to have got Gen. Crook told him that his family should accompany him if they wished.

THEN NACHITA TALKED,

in words which are, by interpretation, as follows: "What Chihuahua says, I say. I surrender to you just as he did. I surrender to you just the same as he did. What he has said, I say. I give you my word, I give you my body. I surrender. I have no more to say than that. When I was free, I gave orders, but now I surrender to you. I throw myself at your feet. You order now, and I obey. What you tell me to do, I must do."

GERONIMO FOLLOWED:

"Two or three words are enough. I have little to say. I surrender myself to you [shaking Crook's hand]. We are all companions, all one family, all one band. What the others say, I say also. Now I give myself up to you. Do with me what you please. I surrender. Once I moved about like the wind. Now I surrender to you, and that is all. I surrender to you, and want to be the same as if I was in your pocket. Now I feel like your brother, and Kowtennay is my brother also. I was very far from here. Almost nobody could get to that place. But I sent you word I wanted to come in here, and here I am. Whatever you tell us is true. We are all sure of that. I hope the day will come when my word will be as strong with you as yours is with me."

Nana and Kut-le then surrendered. Crook asked the chiefs if the surrender included all their people. They said it did. Then followed a general confabulation, in which the prisoners asked to be taken back to the fort by easy marches, as their stock was worn out. Crook promised. The bucks, squaws and children came in during the night, and before morning all the 92 hostiles were prisoners. Gen. Crook then hastened back here, leaving Lieut. Maus and his command to bring up the prisoners.

In my next you shall hear of the sensational escape of Geronimo, Nachita, 19 other bucks and 13 squaws, and the causes.

Gov. Zulick and his crowd, now sober, returned to Tucson this morning. Gen. Crook says there was nothing official in their visit—just a little general out of curiosity. He has nothing to say as to what he will do with his prisoners, whom I hope to interview to-morrow. Anga ver. LUM.

The Wolfskill Orchard.

[Rural Californian.]

The LOS ANGELES TIMES of Sunday, March 21st, contained a very fine history of citrus culture in South California. We can find only one objection to it, and that is the statement that the Wolfskill orchard is the largest in the United States. It is the largest orchard of old trees, but L. J. Rose, of "Sunny Slope," raised more oranges in 1885 than the Wolfskill orchard, and both A. B. Chapman, of San Gabriel, and E. J. Baldwin, of Santa Anita," have double the number of citrus trees contained in the Wolfskill grove.

The above criticism is well founded. The TIMES was in error on the point noted, as it discovered shortly after the publication was made.

The Vital Necessity.

[James Parton in the Forum.]

The daily press is the people's university. Half of the readers of christendom read little else. If we had to choose which should be destroyed, all our colleges or all our daily papers, we should be obliged to decide that our colleges are of immeasurable value, but that the daily press is indispensable.

Kindly Words from a Contemporary.

From the Los Angeles Evening Express, April 5.

Following closely upon a change in the proprietorship of one of our morning newspapers, the other, the TIMES, will, to-morrow, announce a similar change. In accordance with the agreement made thirty days ago between Col. H. G. Otis and Col. H. H. Boyce, which was mentioned in these columns at the time, the half interest of the latter in the Times-Mirror Company, was to-day turned over to the former the amount paid therefor being understood to be $27,000. The TIMES will, therefore, pass fully under the control of Col. Otis, a gentleman of honorable record as a soldier, as a citizen and as a journalist. Associated with Col. Otis in the purchase are Albert McFarland, from Portsmouth, O., [for some months a resident of Los Angeles], a gentleman who enjoys an enviable reputation among the journalists of that State as the editor, for a quarter of a century, of the Portsmouth Tribune, and W. A. Spalding, for a year past a member of the TIMES editorial staff, and for many years connected with the Evening Express in a similar capacity. It is better for the public that its newspapers should be conducted by newspaper men; men who have been trained in the profession and who are ambitious to achieve distinction in its ranks rather than to prostitute its great powers to the furtherance of ignoble ends, and in that view of the matter we believe the change is an excellent one. The Express wishes the new proprietors of the TIMES an abundant prosperity, such as their ability and character warrant us in anticipating.

Still Six Feet of Snow in Maine.

From the Bangor (Me.) Commercial, March 23d.]

It is estimated that there is now in Piscataquis county a depth of snow of from three and one-half to six and one-half feet. The great drifts on the line of the Bangor and Piscataquis road, near East Dover, are still very high. "They look like great icebergs above the car windows."

Eastern Prices Rule Now at McDonnell's Drug Store, 371 North Main Street.

The profit usually realized by the drug trade is far in excess of eastern prices. The purest drugs can and shall be sold as low as in Chicago or New York. For instance, we will sell you:

One pound best gum camphor, 25 cents—regular price, 60 cents.

Colgate's Cashmere Bouquet soap, 25 cents per cake—regular price, 35 cents.

Our prices for everything else are all as low as in the East. Prescriptions compounded by experts only, at genuine eastern prices. Remember, McDonnell, the druggist.

The Woman's Exchange.

Second—The Exchange can furnish choice articles of food cooked to order, ready made fancy articles, and everything that represents woman's work; and it thus has an opportunity for the generous-hearted to do a gracious act and yet get the full worth of their money. The commission for selling is barely enough to pay the small expenses of the Exchange. Call and see the work. 17 S. Main street.

Beecher on Advertising.

"I am glad that the doctor cured him. I am glad that the doctor put it into the paper that he could cure him. And if any doctor in certain he can cure such diseases and don't put it in the paper, I am sorry. What a pity it would have been had this doctor come to town with his wealth of science and experience, and gone away leaving him uncured! What a pity it would have been if he had been so prejudiced against advertising as to read the responsible certificates of the doctor and give him the go-by as a quack! What are newspapers for, if not to circulate information? What more valuable information can a newspaper give than to tell a sick man where he can be cured? If a man has devoted his life and his labor to the study of a special class of diseases, the necessity of his saying so becomes all the more pressing. His duty to advertise become imperious. A really able man, whatever be his gifts, makes a great mistake if he fails to use those gifts through want of advertising."

The above extract, from an able article by the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, embodies a sound view of the necessity of advertising. Suppose Dr. Davis had not advertised, and published numerous certificates from well-known persons whom he has cured, how many would know, in a place with so large and so transient a population as Los Angeles, that there was a doctor among us who could cure that most troublesome of all complaints —catarrh—whether it affects the nose, throat or lungs? How many of our leading citizens would now be in their graves from consumption if they had not learned of his successful treatment, with medical inhalations, through advertising? Dr. Davis has been located for two years at 45½ N. Spring street, this city, doing his good work, and we hope that he will continue to prosper as in the past.—ADV.

Trained Servants—The Best Way to Boycott the Chinese.

The Immigration Association of Southern California has taken advantage of the low rates to the Atlantic seaboard and is about to dispatch a second special agent to England (one being already there) to bring out a large number of trained servants to take places here at from $15 to $20 per month. We must be able to guarantee them places before they start. Any who wish now to secure reliable help can make the arrangement by signing an agreement to employ one or more of these girls as long as they are satisfactory. The names of persons applying for servants will be entered in a book and they will be supplied in the order in which the applications are received. The office of the association is 37 N. Spring street.

MOUND CITY RANCH FOR SALE!

On account of failing health, the owner offers this very fine ranch for sale as a whole or in small tracts, at a very low price and mostly on long time at a low rate of interest. It contains 260 acres of land, 85 acres in canning fruits and raisin grapes partly in bearing, balance of the land in grain. There is a house of twelve rooms built, entirely by day's work, out of Oregon pine and redwood lumber, finished with white cedar, and plastered and papered throughout; finest artesian water in the house; concrete basement under whole house with laundry and store-rooms; house of two rooms for men, and ample barn and shed room. The location is

One of the Healthiest and Pleasantest in California.

The house is about one hundred feet above the land adjacent, giving a splendid view of the entire San Bernardino Valley, and of the two overland railroads for fifteen miles in each. The Southern Pacific runs through the ranch with a station in the center, and the Atlantic and Pacific is only three miles distant, thus having unequalled shipping facilities.

Parties Looking for a home are invited to call at the ranch and take a look.

REAL ESTATE & GENERAL AUCTIONEERS. Office, Room 126 Nadau Block. Take the elevator. The boy will direct you to the office.

Fine Valuable Property On Downey Avenue, East Los Angeles,

In the finest business block, bounded by Downey avenue, Truman, Hawkins and Chestnut streets, with alleys in the rear. This property is directly in front of the elegant Schieffelin property, known far and wide, which property has just been purchased by Mr. Lowell at a large price. Mr. Lowell will immediately erect one of the finest, largest, most elegant and commodious hotels in the city, and an ornament to East Los Angeles.

I will sell on

Friday, April 9, 1886,

At 1 o'clock, on the ground, 13 large, fine, valuable business and residence lots, to the highest bidder, without reserve terms, by order of U. Embody, Esq.

This property is considered the finest business block in East Los Angeles; ¼ cash, ¼ in 6 months, ¼ in 12 months, ¼ in 18 months, at 1 per cent. The improvements in East Los Angeles—one can hardly keep pace with them. Brilliantly lighted by the electric lights; Baron Rogozat's newsightly residence on the mountain top; the magnificent new hotel by Mr. Lowell, called the Schieffelin; the Spring-street railroad; the Bellman street-railroad; also something new, the electric railroad, will pass your door; every lot beautifully lighted with the electric light. Hancock Johnson, Esq., Edwin Dunham, Esq., Wm. Lacy, Esq.'s elegant mansions; now comes Arthur Sullivan, Esq., the composer, who is to build a fine mansion; also several other elegant mansions are about to be erected; churches of every denomination; schools of the highest order; fine neighborhood; fine class of society; good drainage; fine shade trees. You can have the city water or the valuable artesian water, which has just been developed by Judge Ling, who proposes to furnish the same to all East Los Angeles, for which a company has just been formed as Judson, Miller, Santee, Macneil, Breed, Lacy and Ling, gentlemen who mean business. A branch postoffice has just been established directly opposite this property, and is covered with the free mail delivery system. The railroad depots are much nearer to East Los Angeles center than to the center of the city proper. The elegant new iron bridge over the river at Downey avenue, and other bridges to follow, solid and substantial structures. Strangers are particularly invited to examine these grounds, the beautiful homes, the homes in the beautiful orange groves. Don't fail to see the property before the day of sale, as an investment, solid and substantial; as a speculation and a quick return, first-class.

Free carriages will leave from in front of Nadeau block at 1 o'clock; be early and get a good seat.

AUCTION SALE ON PREMISES.

The Don Fernando Sepulveda Homestead,

One mile east of Sepulveda Railroad Station and four miles from city boundary.

SALE TO TAKE PLACE ON

Monday, April 5th

AT 11 A. M.

200 acres of this excellent land will be offered at auction in about five acre lots, with privilege of more. It is conceded by the best judges of land in this vicinity, notably by Mr. H. E. Crow, of the celebrated peach orchard, one mile south; Mr. Lacy, on adjoining property; Messrs. Thom and Rose, east, and by many uninterested parties, also good judges of this class of land, that for all kinds of fruits and vines there is no better land in the State. The water right to nearly every acre is fully secured, and is considered ample for the above purposes.

The situation, having a Southern aspect and commanding a view of the whole valley, is most desirable for healthy and pleasant homesteads.

It is the desire of the owner to state nothing but facts in regard to this land, and most cordially invites the closest inspection. Being resident on the spot he—the Rev. Geo. Baugh—will be glad to show intending purchasers the property at any time, Sundays excepted.

Free carriages to and from the property will leave the front of Temple block at 9 a. m. on day of sale.

Terms of Sale—Cash for all purchases less than $1000; above $1000 one-half cash and balance in one year, at 7 per cent interest. Ten per cent cash on fall of auctioneer's hammer; balance on receipt of deed.

Title absolutely perfect. Bargain and sale deed will be given with each purchase.

Business Announcements.

OFFICE OF
THE TIMES-MIRROR COMPANY,
Los Angeles, April 5, 1886.

The following changes in the ownership and personnel of THE TIMES-MIRROR Company are hereby announced:

I. Harrison G. Otis has this day purchased of H. H. Boyce his entire interest in the establishment, and Mr. Boyce retires from the business.

II. Mr. Albert McFarland, a veteran journalist, of ability and experience, and with a long, honorable and successful career in the profession, has purchased an interest in the establishment, and will henceforth be actively connected with the publication of the DAILY TIMES and the WEEKLY MIRROR.

III. Mr. William A. Spalding, for many years past prominently identified with journalism in Los Angeles, and who has during the past year been a trusted and efficient member of the TIMES staff, has also purchased an interest in the establishment, and will continue his active connection with the business.

IV. Col. H. G. Otis, who has been at the editorial head of the TIMES since the first year of its existence, will continue in that capacity, and will have, besides, the general direction of the Company's affairs. The policy of the paper will continue unchanged. That policy is, in brief, the maintenance of the principles of the Republican party, the defense of liberty, law and public morals, and the up-building of the city and county of Los Angeles and the State of South California. The motto of the new united proprietors will be, "PUSH THINGS!"

V. All accounts due the TIMES-MIRROR Company are payable at the office, as usual, and all obligations owing by the Company will be paid by it.

VI. Further announcements, outlining important enterprises and improvements in contemplation, will be made hereafter.

A Card.

Having transferred my stock to Col. H. G. Otis, I have this day severed my connection with the TIMES-MIRROR Company, and retire wishing the new proprietors the most abundant success. They have acquired the most promising newspaper property on this coast, and with increased capital to back them, the TIMES and the MIRROR will easily maintain the clear lead that they have already attained in Southern California.

H. H. BOYCE.

Mrs. Stanton and the Boys.

What shall be done with the city boys on Sunday? This is a question often asked, but seldom answered, and then not satisfactorily. There are, remarks Mrs. Elizabeth Cady Stanton, in the April number of the Forum, few means of entertainment provided for the boys on Sunday. To be sure, there are the street-cars for short rides to the parks in fine weather; walks in the sunshine; the fatal hospitality of the saloons; the Sunday-schools, the church services, or the youth may occupy himself with reading at home. With these, however, the multitudes of young men and boys congregate hour after hour on the street corners on Sunday in search of Amusement. But it costs money to go on street cars, many never go to Sunday-school, have no homes or books, and there must be some outlet somewhere for the boy spirits that are to be guided rather than repressed.

Mrs. Stanton suggests, or rather asks the question, whether it would not be rational for the municipal authorities to open the libraries, picture galleries, museums, menageries and concert halls; to multiply the facilities of transit to points of interest, and aid otherwise in various ways in bringing together the mind and that which will instruct and satisfy it. Schoolhouses and public halls, thrown open for courses of popular lectures, would prove, Mrs. Stanton believes, a great blessing to intelligent workingmen, particularly when the lectures were on the sciences or on travels. It is also suggested that the theaters should be made schools for moral instruction as well as places for entertainment, or at least thrown open to public readings, concerts, etc. Even the skating rinks might be furnished with fine bands of music, affording free and spirited entertainment and recreation to those who have little opportunity for cheerful and innocent amusement.

The city authorities might, Mrs. Stanton believes, make an appropriation for a corps of teachers expressly for Sunday, to give the multitude in all the public schools practical lessons in the rudiments of learning, music, drawing, games, deportment, gymnastics, etc. Some of these studies or pastimes might be introduced into the mission fields with excellent effect.

The remarkably successful work of Miss Charlotte Mulligan, in the city of Buffalo, for the benefit of boys, is described at length by Mrs. Stanton, as illustrating what one ingenious, intelligent, enthusiastic young woman can do, in charming a class of unruly boys, leading them to cleanliness, industry, sobriety, and respectability. One of this lady's plans was to invite the boys twice a week to her home, treat them to refreshments, tell them interesting stories, with a fine, healthful moral running through them, and step by step leading them on until she obtained their fullest confidence, helping them to find work, to better homes, better food and clothing, and made the teaching in the class a story-telling course. The result of this line of effort has been to make good men of wild boys. Over 3000 have already become men under this cheerful influence, and probably three-fourths of this number have remained faithful to their pledges, and many are filling responsible positions in the world of work.

AT FORT BOWIE.

The Apache Matter as Seen on the Ground.

GERONIMO'S SURRENDER AND ESCAPE.

A Sharp Set-Back on the Heels of a Glorious Success—The Silent, Grim Old Soldier.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

FORT BOWIE, A. T., April 1, 1886.—I passed Tuesday night very handily at Bowie station with Lieut. McDonald, the herculean and intelligent commanding officer of the cavalry stationed there. He came from Fort Yuma last December, when so many troops were called from the coast at Gov. Zulick's outcry. Gen. Crook never sent for them and never wanted them. He had already as many men as he could use. I find among them all, however, that intelligent appreciation of the Apache problem which is almost non est among straight civilians. Lieut. McDonald has seen Indian service himself, and gave me many good pointers. In the morning, after a very creditable cavalry drill, he had a good horse brought up by a mounted orderly. My blankets and papers were strapped to the cantle, and I set out across the plain with the orderly, headed for Fort Bowie, which nestles in the mountains fourteen miles southeast of the station. The road is a good one, and we cantered along easily through the hot forenoon, troubled by nothing but a bronchial affection—for water. At noon we had surmounted the three miles of tame cañon, and rode into which lies on a rather sharply-sloping bench of the mountain side, while down through a gap in the hills one looks across the wierd plain to a purple range 53 miles away. The Post is called Fort Bowie, though there is no fort and no fortification. It is hemmed in by ranges on every side, and stands at an altitude of 4781 feet. Behind it is the inevitable crag—in this case "Ellen's Dome"—from which a maiden threw herself to escape from the Indians. You know the mountainous country which cannot boast some such legendary cliff, is poor indeed. Around the generous plaza stand big, substantial adobes; and at the farther corner from the entrance, a French-roofed frame building of some pretentions, the residence of Col. Beaumont, Commander of the Post. Good water is pumped by steam-power from an adjacent hillside. There are about 100 soldiers stationed here, and I fancy they have a very fair sort of a time. The discipline is Number One, and everything as trim and tant as a man o'war.

We rode up to headquarters at once, and were met by Maj. G. S. Roberts, Adjutant General. He served on Crook's staff during the war, and is as genial a gentleman as one would care to meet. Gen. Crook and Gov. Zulick were having a pow-wow in Col. Beaumont's house, and did not conclude till one o'clock. Then emerged and strode down to the office where we were waiting. He read my credentials, welcomed me briefly, spoke a few non-committal words in answer to leading questions, and said: "For any information you may wish, I will turn you over to Capt. Burke. He is the best able to talk to you, and can give you everything accurately."

I like the grim old General. There is that in him which makes one want to take off one's hat. There never was a soldier who fought against heavier odds with stiffer upper lip. He has the same patient, persistent, uncomplaining and unapologetic doggedness that was Grant's fundamental characteristic. To-day the most prominent figure in the army—the only one in the field—he occupies a larger place in public discussion than any other General. And in this exposed position, one of the fiercest fires is centered on him that ever whistled about a soldier's ears. Since the war none of its prominent commanders has been more persistently, more savagely, more cruelly hounded by jealousy, opposition and many another masked influence, than has Crook. Almost without exception the Territorial papers have damned him—not with "faint praise," but with bitterest invective. He has been cursed at, belittled and lied about, his policy misrepresented, his acts distorted, and alleged acts of his made up out of whole cloth. Some of these lies have already been nailed—as the one about his surrendering to the Apaches in the Sierra Madre in 1878. Others have not been; and some never will be. He is a soldier, not a war correspondent. Let the lying go on as it will, telegraphed from end to end of the country but he never opens his mouth. He is here to fight, not to justify himself.

IT IS LIKE PULLING TEETH

to get anything out of him, and in his own defense he will not let out a word. He feels it, no doubt—he would be more than man if the poisoned shafts did not sting. Yes, the old man carries other wounds than the Apache arrow that still rankles in his thigh—but you would never know it from him. Every time I look at him some half-forgotten lines come up to me. They describe not the old grey wolf at bay. Who wrote them, you, who are nearer Bartlett's "Familiar Quotations," may hunt up:

"And yonder, lone-baying,
His bloody lair surrounds,
He dies in silence—biting hard
Amidst the pelping hounds."

Not that there is anything of the wolf about Crook so far as ferocity is concerned. He is not even bluff, but as kindly as he is reticent. But it is the same unwhimpering grit, the same deathless hold. The General is a tall, well-knit man, without an ounce of superfluous flesh. He is straight, but does not convey that impression, for his well-turned head has that peculiar droop of the habitual hard-thinker. It is as though the weight of care and thought behind the seamed forehead dragged it forward from its poise. The deep, clean lines that mark his face are further tokens of the hard brain-work he has put into this campaign. He is an indefatigable worker, and keeps at the knotty problems all day and well into the night. His heavy brown beard is again sharping his chin, which a few weeks ago was shaven. His forehead is high and broad; his eyes clear and penetrating; his nose large and a very pronounced aquiline. He wears nothing to denote his rank or even his profession, but paces thoughtfully up and down the porch in a plain, but neatly-kept civilian suit, topped by a big, buff slouch hat. At Geronimo's surrender, the other day, the General wore a duck coat and common canvas pants. I dined with him yesterday and though he was inclined to respond in his laconic way to general conversation, he was not to be pumped on the matter in hand. He didn't appear to evade, either, but simply said there was "nothing to tell."

THE STATE OF THE CAMPAIGN.

When I wrote to you night before last, we all supposed the campaign at an end. The hostiles had surrendered unconditionally to the "Grey Fox" (as the Apaches call Crook), and were on their way to the fort as prisoners. It was only upon arriving here yesterday noon that I learned the unwelcome news of Geronimo's escape. The particulars are rather meager, but we will know more to-morrow, when Lieut. Faison will get in with the rest of the captives. I have now the full particulars of the surrender, also, and will communicate them as fast as may be, with the speeches made on that occasion by the Apaches, taken down verbatim on the spot.

COMING TO THE CONFERENCE.

Having received the news from Lieut. Maus that Geronimo desired to surrender, Gen. Crook immediately started, on the morning of March 22d, for the San Bernardino rancho. This lies partly in Arizona, but mostly in Mexico, near the point where the lines of New Mexico, Old Mexico and Arizona come together. He was accompanied by Capt. Burke, Major Roberts and Master Charlie Roberts, a bright and nervy lad of eleven. They traveled in an ambulance, with relays and no escort, reaching the line in 90 miles. Thence they went by saddle 25 miles in Sonora, arriving at Lieut Maus's, Maus's camp on the morning of the 25th. Geronimo and his band were camped in an impregnable stronghold upon a cañon-cleft hill a quarter of a mile from Maus, and saw them come. He sent word that he wanted to come down and have a talk with Crook. Before a reply could be got to him, he came down, accompanied by Nachita (commonly called Nachez) and several bucks. Geronimo said he wanted to talk with Grey Fox. Crook replied, "I am not here to talk with you, but to hear you talk." Geronimo began a long-winded palaver, explaining why he had gone on the war-path. Crook promptly shut him up, saying, "Geronimo,

YOU ARE A LIAR.

You have lied to me once, and I cannot believe you any more. You must decide at once to surrender unconditionally, or to stay in the mountains. If you decide to stay in the mountains, you may be sure that every last man of you will be hunted down and killed, if it takes us fifty years. Go back to your village and think it over, and let me know what you decide. I want no delay about it."

Geronimo was terribly taken aback at this cold reception to his overtures. He pulled uneasily at a string, and big drops of sweat stood out on his hands and forehead. He went back with his companions to their fastness to chew the cud of deliberation. During this conference, Chihuahua, the brains of the band, got back with his bucks from a raid in Sonora, driving a few ponies, and joined Geronimo on the hills.

CHIHUAHUA WEAKENS.

On the evening of the 26th, Chihuahua sent word to Gen. Crook that the bucks had been talking together all day, but had not yet reached a decision. But it made no difference what the rest did—he was going to surrender anyhow, and would come in that night, with his followers, if Crook would allow. But the Grey Fox was too shrewd for that. There was the very sort of leaven he wished to be working in the Apache camp; and he sent back word to Chihuahua that none would be received until all surrendered.

THE SURRENDER.

And next day they all came in—that is, all the chiefs, Geronimo, Kut-le, Chihuahua, Nana, and Nachita, with a few bucks—and met Crook. It was an interesting scene, down amid the savage wildness of the Cañon de los Embudos. Besides Crook there were present Capt. Burke, his right-hand man; Major Roberts and son, Lieut. Maus, Lieut. Faison, Dr. Davis, ex-Mayor Stearns of Tombstone, Mr. Moore, master of transportation; Mr. Daly, and about eighty of Maus's Apache scouts—not to mention Mr. Fly, a nervy photographer from Tombstone, who had gone into Geronimo's fastness the day before (prior to the surrender), and "took" the whole place, and everyone in it. There were also the interpreters, José, Maria, Concepcion, Antonio Besias and Mr. Montoya.

CHIHUAHUA SPOKE FIRST.

A literal translation of his speech follows. It almost reminds one of a paragraph from Cooper. The Apache has a blarney stone of his own, and when he has a very big ax to grind, can flatter with the best of us. Chihuahua was talking for his life, which may excuse his poetical flights. He said:

"I am very glad to see you and have this talk with you. It is as you say—we shall always be in danger so long as we remain out here. But I hope from this on we may live better with our families, and not do any harm to anybody. I am anxious to behave. I think the sun is looking down upon me, and the earth listening. I am thinking better, it seems to me, than I have seen the one who makes the rain and sends the winds—or he must have sent you to this place. I surrender myself to you because I believe in you, and you have never lied to us. You do not deceive us. You must be our God. I am satisfied with all that you do. You are, I think, the one who makes the green pastures, who sends the rain and commands the winds. You must be the one who sends the fresh fruits that come on the trees every year. There are many men in the world who are great chiefs and command many people; but you must be the greatest of all, or you would not come out here to see us. I want you to be a father to me and treat me as your son. I want you to have pity on me. There is no doubt that all you do is right, because all you do is just the same as if God did it. All you do is right. So I consider you to be. I trust in all you say. You do not lie. You do not deceive. All the things you tell me are so. Now I am in your hands. I place myself at your disposal. I surrender myself to you—do with me as you please. I shake your hand (grasping Crook's hand). I want to come right into your camp with my family, and stay there. I don't want to be away at a distance—I want to be right where you are. I have run in these mountains from water to water. I never found a place where I could see my father or my mother, till to-day, when I see you, my father. I surrender to you now, and I don't want any more bad feeling or bad talk. I am going over to stay with you in your camp. Whatever a man raises anything, even a dog, he thinks well of it and tries to raise it right and treats it well, even if it is a dog. So I want you to feel towards me and be good to me. Don't let people say bad things about me. Now I surrender to you and go with you. When we are traveling together on the road or anywhere else, I hope you will talk to me sometimes. I think a great deal of Alchesay and Kowtennay [two of Crook's Apache scouts], and they think a great deal of me. I hope a day to be all the same as their brother, and that you will think the same of me as you do of them. I would like you to send my family with me wherever you send me. I have a daughter at Camp Apache [the reservation] and other relatives of my companions and me. Wherever you want to send me, I wish you would also send them."

I have remarked that Chihuahua is the brains of the band. You will see from the above that he is also a fine orator, and no slouch at "giving taffy." Gen. Crook told him that his family should accompany him if they wished.

WHEN NACHITA TALKED,

in words which are, by his interpretation, as follows: "What Chihuahua says, I say. I surrender to you just as he did. What he has said, I say. I give you my word, I give you my body, I surrender. I have no more to say than that. When I was free, I gave orders, but now I surrender to you. I throw myself at your feet. You order now, and I obey. What you tell me to do, I must do."

GERONIMO FOLLOWED:

"Two or three words are enough. I have little to say. I surrender myself to you [shaking Crook's hand]. We are all companions, all one family, all one band. What the others say, I say also. Now I give myself up to you. Do with me what you please. I surrender. Once I moved about like the wind. Now I surrender to you, and that is all. I surrender to you, and want to be the same as if I was in your pocket. Now I feel like your brother, and Kowtennay is my brother also. I was very far from here. Almost nobody could get to that place. But I sent you word I wanted to come in here, and here I am. Whatever you tell us is true. We are all sure of that. I hope the day will come when my word will be as strong with you as yours is with me."

Nana and Kut-le then surrendered. Crook asked the chiefs if the surrender included all their people. They said it did. Then followed a general confabulation, in which the prisoners asked to be taken back to the fort by easy marches, as their stock was worn out. Crook promised. The bucks, squaws and children came in during the night, and before morning all the 92 hostiles were prisoners. Gen. Crook then hastened back here, leaving Lieut. Maus and his command to bring up the prisoners.

In my next you shall hear of the sensational escape of Geronimo, Nachita, 19 other bucks and 13 squaws, and the causes.

Gov. Zulick and his crowd, now sober, returned to Tucson this morning. Gen. Crook says there was nothing official in their visit—just a little pasear out of curiosity. He has nothing to say as to what he will do with his prisoners, whom I hope to interview to-morrow. Anas ver. LUM.

The Wolfskill Orchard.

[Rural Californian.]

The LOS ANGELES TIMES of Sunday, March 21st, contained a very fine history of citrus culture in South California. We can find only one objection to it, and that is the statement that the Wolfskill orchard is the largest in the United States. It is the largest orchard of old trees, but L. J. Rose, of "Sunny Slope," raised more oranges in 1885 than the Wolfskill orchard, and both A. B. Chapman, of San Gabriel, and E. J. Baldwin, of Santa Anita," have double the number of citrus trees contained in the Wolfskill grove.

The above criticism is well founded. The TIMES was in error on the point noted, as it discovered shortly after the publication was made.

The Vital Necessity.

[James Parton in the Forum.]

The daily press is the people's university. Half of the readers of christendom read little else. If we had to choose which should be destroyed, all our colleges or all our daily papers, we should be obliged to decide that our colleges are of immeasurable value, but that the daily press is indispensable.

Kindly Words from a Contemporary.

From the Los Angeles Evening Express, April 5.

Following closely upon a change in the proprietorship of one of our morning newspapers, the other, the TIMES, will, to-morrow, announce a similar change. In accordance with the agreement made thirty days ago between Col. H. G. Otis and Col. H. H. Boyce, which was mentioned in these columns at the time, the half interest of the latter in the Times-Mirror Company, was to day turned over to the former the amount paid therefor being understood to be $27,000. The TIMES will, therefore, pass fully under the control of Col. Otis, a gentleman of honorable record as a soldier, as a citizen and as a journalist. Associated with Col. Otis in the purchase are Albert McFarland, from Portsmouth, O., [for some months a resident of Los Angeles], a gentleman who enjoys an enviable reputation among the journalists of that State as the editor, for a quarter of a century, of the Portsmouth Tribune, and W. A. Spalding, for a year past a member of the TIMES editorial staff, and for many years connected with the Evening Express in a similar capacity. It is better for the public that its newspapers should be conducted by newspaper men; men who have been trained in the profession and who are ambitious to achieve distinction in its ranks rather than to prostitute its great powers to the furtherance of ignoble ends, and in that view of the matter we believe the change is an excellent one. The Express wishes the new proprietors of the TIMES an abundant prosperity, such as their ability and character warrant us in anticipating.

It is estimated that there is now in Piscataquis county a depth of snow of from three and one-half to six and one-half feet. The great drifts on the line of the Bangor and Piscataquis road, in East Dover, are still very high. "They look like great icebergs above the car windows."

Beecher on Advertising.

" " " I am glad that the doctor put it into the paper that he would cure him. And if any doctor is certain he can cure such diseases and don't put it in the paper, I am sorry. What a pity it would have been had this doctor come to town with his wealth of science and experience, and gone away leaving him uncured! What a pity it would have been if he had been so prejudiced against advertising as to read the responsible certificates of the doctor and give him the go-by as a quack! What are newspapers for, if not to circulate information? What more valuable information can a newspaper give than to tell a sick man where he can be cured! If a man has devoted his life and his labor to the study of a special class of diseases, the necessity of his saying so becomes all the more pressing. His duty to advertise become imperious. A really able man, whatever be his gifts, makes a great mistake if he fails to use those gifts through want of advertising."

The above extract, from an able article by the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, embodies a sound view of the necessity of advertising. Suppose Dr. Davis had not advertised, and published numerous certificates from well-known persons whom he has cured, how many would know, in a place with so large and so transient a population as Los Angeles, that there was a doctor among us who could cure that most troublesome of all complaints —catarrh—whether it affects the nose, throat or lung? How many of our leading citizens would now be in their graves from consumption if they had not learned of his successful treatment, with medical inhalations, through advertising? Dr. Davis has been located for two years at 45½ N. Spring street, this city, doing his good work, and we hope that he will continue to prosper as in the past.—ADV.

Trained Servants—The Best Way to Boycott the Chinese.

The Immigration Association of Southern California has taken advantage of the low rates to the Atlantic seaboard and is about to dispatch a second special agent to England (one being already there) to bring out a large number of trained servants to take places here at from $15 to $30 per month. We must be able to guarantee them places before they start. Any who wish now to secure reliable help can make the arrangement by signing an agreement to employ one or more of these girls as long as they are satisfactory. The names of persons applying for servants will be entered in a book and they will be supplied in the order in which the applications are received. The office of the association is 57 N. MOUND CITY RANCH

FOR SALE!

On account of failing health, the owner offers this very fine ranch for sale as a whole or in small tracts, at a very low price and mostly on long time at a low rate of interest. It contains 260 acres of land, 85 acres in canning fruits and raisin grapes partly in bearing, balance of the land in grain. There is a house of twelve rooms built, entirely by day's work, out of Oregon pine and redwood lumber, finished with white cedar, and plastered and papered throughout; finest artesian water in the house; concrete basement under whole house with laundry and store-rooms; house of two rooms for men, and ample barn and shed room. The location is

One of the Healthiest and Pleasantest in California.

The house is about one hundred feet above the land adjacent, giving a splendid view of the entire San Bernardino Valley, and of the two overland railroads for fifteen miles on each. The Southern Pacific runs through the ranch with a station in the center, and the Atlantic and Pacific is only three miles distant, thus having unequalled shipping facilities.

Parties Looking for a home are invited to call at the ranch and take a look.

IN AMERICA.

The crystallized salts, as extracted from grapes and fruit, a most wonderful product from nature's laboratory. Have it in your homes and travels—a specific for the fagged, weary or worn-out. It cures sick headache, dyspepsia, stomach and bowel complaints; removes billiousness, stimulates the liver to a healthy action, counteracts the effects of impure water and the excessive use of alcoholic beverages and prevents the absorption of malaria, and supplies to the system the want of sound ripe fruit.

This property is directly in front of the elegant Schieffelin property, known far and wide, which property has just been purchased by Mr. Lowell at a large price. Mr. Lowell will immediately erect one of the finest, largest, most elegant and commodious hotels in the city, and an ornament to East Los Angeles. I will sell on

Friday, April 9, 1886,

At 1 o'clock, on the ground, 13 large, fine, valuable business and residence lots, to the highest bidder, without reserve terms, by order of U. Embody, Esq.

This property is considered the finest business block in East Los Angeles; ¼ cash, ¼ in 6 months, ¼ in 12 months, ¼ in 18 months, at 1 per cent. The improvements in East Los Angeles—one can hardly keep pace with them. Brilliantly lighted by the electric lights; Baron Rogniat's newsightly residence on the mountain top; the magnificent new hotel by Mr. Lowell, called the Schieffelin; the Spring-street railroad; the Hellman street-railroad; also something new, the electric railroad, will pass your door; every lot beautifully lighted with electric light. Hancock Johnson, Esq., Edwin Dunham, Esq., Wm. Lacy, Esq.'s elegant mansions; now comes Arthur Sullivan, Esq., the composer, who is to build a fine mansion; also several other elegant mansions are about to be erected; churches of every denomination; schools of the highest order; fine neighborhood; fine class of society; good drainage; fine shade trees. You can have the city water or the valuable artesian water, which has just been developed by Judge Ling, who proposes to furnish the same to all East Los Angeles, for which a company has just been formed as Judson, Miller, Santee, Macneil, Breed, Lacy and Ling, gentlemen who mean business. A branch postoffice has just been established directly opposite this property, and is covered with the free mail delivery system. The railroad depots are much nearer to East Los Angeles center than to the center of the city proper. The elegant new iron bridge over the river at Downey avenue, and other bridges to follow, solid and substantial structures. Strangers are particularly invited to examine these grounds, the beautiful homes, the homes in the beautiful orange groves. Don't fail to see the property before the day of sale, as an investment, solid and substantial; as a speculation and a quick return, first-class.

AUCTION SALE ON PREMISES.

The Don Fernando Sepulveda Homestead,

One mile east of Sepulveda Railroad Station and four miles from city boundary.

SALE TO TAKE PLACE ON

Monday, April 5th

AT 11 A. M.

200 acres of this excellent land will be offered at auction in about five acre lots, with privilege of more. It is conceded by the best judges of land in this vicinity, notably by Mr. R. E. Crow, of the celebrated peach orchard, one mile south; Mr. Lacey, on adjoining property; Messrs. Thom and Ross, and by many uninterested parties, also good judges of this class of land, that for all kinds of fruits and vines there is no better land in the State. The water right to nearly every acre is fully secured, and is considered ample for the above purposes.

The situation, having a Southern aspect and commanding a view of the whole valley, is most desirable for healthy and pleasant homesteads.

It is the desire of the owner to state nothing but facts in regard to this land, and most cordially invites the closest inspection. Being resident on the spot he—the Rev. Geo. Baugh—will be glad to show intending purchasers the property at any time, Sundays excepted.

Free carriages to and from the property will leave the front of Temple block at 9 a. m. on day of sale.

Terms of Sale—Cash for all purchases less than $1000; above $1000 one-half cash and balance in one year, at 7 per cent interest. Ten per cent cash on fall of auctioneer's hammer; balance on receipt of deed.

Title absolutely perfect. Bargain and sale deed will be given with each purchase.

Elsinore Hotel & Hot Springs

On the California Southern Railroad, 25 miles south of Colton. While nestled in the valley, like a diamond set in emeralds, is the beautiful lake of Elsinore, on whose placid waters the guests of the hotel are treated daily to yatching excursions. The drives around the lake and adjoining country are unsurpassed, and the shooting abundant.

The hotel rooms are large, well furnished and sunny, and the table supplied with the best the market affords.

BRIEFS.

The Ohio Union meets at Nadeau Hall this evening.

Pablo Lopez has qualified as Road Overseer of San Fernando Road District.

The Vienna Garden has gone back to its first love. It is once more a skating rink.

The Fifth Ward Anti-Chinese Club meets to-morrow night at the Washington Gardens.

The San Gabriel Valley Railway reports three bran span new coaches. The old ones have been laid off to be repainted.

The Anti-Chinese Boycott Club of the First Ward met at the Southern Hotel last night. The usual speeches were made and pledges signed.

Marriage licenses were issued yesterday to S. M. Smith and E. E. Montgomery, C. C. Shepardson and M. A. Coff and J. E. Jaqua and M. E. Ford.

David Leiva will have to give an account of himself under charges of assault with a deadly weapon, in Justice Austin's Court to-day.

The criminal calendar for the April session was called in Judge Cheney's Court yesterday. It is a long one. Judge Brunson also called his trial and law calendars.

The caving of some loose earth on Fort street did some little damage to R. C. Glover's house on Saturday night. The ladies of the house received timely warning, otherwise they would possibly have been injured.

N. C. Carter, of "Carterhia," reports a good strike of water in the tunnel in Little Santa Ana Cañon. The work is being carried forward jointly by E. J. Baldwin and the Sierra Madre Water Company.

A buggy wheel was wrecked on the street-car track, in front of Garrett & Neitzke's undertaking parlors, Sunday. Two Pasadena men in the vehicle were thrown to the ground, but escaped without serious injury.

A painter at work on a sign in front of Sam Meyer's crockery store, Sunday, gave too strong a pull on it, and all went overboard together. The man was not much hurt, and, picking up his sign, carried it to his shop, to be finished on a more secure basis.

If our evening contemporary will carefully re-read and correctly interpret the language used by the TIMES relative to the arrest of David Leyva last Saturday, it will find the facts correctly stated. What the TIMES said was this: "He ran. At the same time he pulled his revolver and tried to shoot Huber."

Tourists in Large Parties

Now take the daily excursion by San Gabriel Valley Railroad to Pasadena, and carriage through the orange groves, gardens and vineyards to Sunny Slope, Santa Anita and other points of interest and beauty in the paradise of the San Gabriel valley. This route avoids the long and tiresome thirty-mile drive; the round-trip including dinner at the famous Sierra Madre Villa, only $2.75.

"Hotel Arcadia."

Now in course of construction, at Santa Monica, will be the finest hotel (excepting the Raymond) in Southern California. The most desirable lots in Santa Monica are those directly in front of this magnificent hotel, and can be purchased now of Mr. J. W. Scott at a bargain. Only a few left. Choose your lot soon.

THE TEACHERS.

Opening of the Annual Institute.

OFFICERS AND COMMITTEES CHOSEN.

Foreign and American Education Discussed—The Teacher's Personal Influence—Prof. Kellogg on State University.

The annual institute of the teachers of Los Angeles county was opened yesterday forenoon at 11 o'clock, in the Baptist Church. Introductory remarks appropriate to the occasion were made by Supt. J. W. Hinton. The speaker directed the attention of the teachers to the progressive character of educational thought. Everywhere there is investigation and search for a better understanding of the requirements for a teacher's work. Whatever may be the defects of our schools, this is true, that improvement is general. The worst obstacles are easily seen. Frequent change of teachers, irregularity of attendance and lack of interest on the part of parents and children, all hinder the efficiency of the public schools. With all the facilities provided by the State, it is still true that many children grow up without any education worthy of the name. In some districts the attendance is not one-tenth of the enrollment. All friends of public instruction should strive to secure a more universal attendance, in order that the schools may serve their true purpose, the education of all.

A committee on organization was appointed consisting of E. T. Pierce, C. W. Moores, Mrs. C. G. DuBois, Miss Kate O. Sessions and J. N. Keran.

The committee, after conference, reported the following officers: President, J. W. Hinton; Vice Presidents, City Superintendent W. M. Friesner, Hon. J. R. Brierly, Prof. M. Kellogg, T. A. Saxon, H. D. Barrows, F. H. Howard, W. M. McFadden, G. H. Peck, J. M. Guinn and Mrs. C. B. Jones; Secretary, W. F. Bray; assistants, Miss Jessie Frater and J. W. Guthrie.

It was recommended that the faculty of the Branch Normal school, all teachers of private schools, visiting teachers and school officers of the county be made honorary members of the Institute. The report of the committee having been adopted, the President appointed the following committees:

On Resolutions—Fred H. Clark, Theo. Shaw, Miss F. A. Dunham, A. S. McPherson, Miss M. K. Scott.

On Music—Prof. R. L. Kent, J. H. Millette, Mrs. L. Armour, Miss Lida Stanford, S. H. Butterfield, Mrs. W. W. Seaman, Miss Fannie Quesnell, J. M. Burgess, Edwin Clarke.

On Introductions—S. H. Butterfield, F. W. Guthrie, Miss Mary Foy, F. E. Little, Miss Hattie Gower, W. W. Seaman, Miss Allie Starbird, G. D. Howland, Miss Sara Reese, Miss Regina Weinshank, Mrs. E. S. Onstott.

On Reading and Approving the Minutes—J. N. Keran, Miss Cora Slack, S. T. De Pencier.

A recess was then taken until 1:15 p. m.

Afternoon Session.

The afternoon session was opened with a vocal solo by M. S. Snook. F. H. Howard, President of the County Board of Education, was introduced, and spoke of the great names that may be recalled as the educators of the world. The experience of Mr. Howard as a member of the Board of Education has convinced him that the teachers of this county are a body of earnest and intelligent workers. The gentleman urged teachers to give attention to their private professional libraries. A young lawyer must possess an extensive library and spend years in careful study; the young teacher should also collect the best professional books, and spend time in their careful study.

Parents, too, should not drop their children from their thoughts as soon as they start them toward the schoolhouse. They should keep themselves carefully informed of the progress of their children, and as far as possible they should co-operate in the teacher's work.

H. N. Seaver, Principal of the Spring-street School, read a scholarly paper upon "Foreign and American Education." The primary schools of Germany were described and compared with those of our own country. Our schools have the advantage of being perfectly free; the German schools have a wider range of instruction. Religious instruction is considered absolutely necessary. Difference of belief is met by a classification of the pupils, and Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and mixed classes are instructed separately.

Good schools for the professional training of teachers are maintained and are well attended. The number of women engaged in teaching is rapidly increasing. The pay of teachers, the small cost of living being considered, compares very favorably with that found in this country. Pensions are common, and teachers are required by law to belong to insurance societies. Higher education in Germany presents far more brilliant scholarship than our country can boast. The gymnasia afford a wide range of technical and scientic training and the very best preparation for the universities, the crown of the German educational system. The Gewerbe-Schulen, or technical schools, are of the very highest character, and enable Germany to hold her position in the strong competition among modern nations in the practical arts.

Miss Minnie A. Kinball of Tustin, introduced for discussion the subject of "The Teacher's Personal Influence." When the pupil enters school he is susceptible to every influence. His years of life so far have done little toward the formation of his character. The teacher then, must appreciate his pupil's need, and exert an influence toward the building up of a perfected character.

The discussion was continued by A. E. Baker and Mrs. A. S. Averill, both of Los Angeles. Mr. Baker showed that personality of the teacher is a strong factor in his work. Mrs. Averill showed that although influence is unconscious, it is not the less strong. The teacher's influence must be positive and aggressive, and must receive the loyal support of every day's life.

After a recess, Prof. M. Kellogg, Dean of the Faculty of the University of California, addressed the Institute upon the relations of the schools and the college. Prof. Kellogg has come from Berkeley to attend the Institute and to represent the University. He reminded the teachers [illegible] common school education ought [illegible] be considered final. Education [illegible] be carried as far as possible, from the grammar school through the high school to the University. Broadly educated men are needed everywhere. They are needed as teachers; they are needed as members of school boards; they are needed as social and political leaders. They may perhaps not be elected to office, but they can nevertheless exert a powerful influence, and in the right direction.

The University of California has a future before it. It was founded under a combination of favorable circumstances and its aims and purposes are the highest. It aims to give an education equal to that of any institution in the land. Although it does not profess to give religious instruction, it simply occupies the non-sectarian position of a State institution. Its foundation is precisely that of the public schools everywhere. There is nothing irreligious in the University of California, although it does not and cannot teach religion. Shall young men and young women be sent away three thousand miles to be educated? Shall they not be made better citizens and better Californians if they are educated here, on our own soil?

Superintendent C. H. McGrew, of Iowa, on the subject of "School Economy," spoke of the importance of proper organization for school work. Practical suggestions were given with respect to the organization and management of schools, especially in rural districts.

The number of teachers attending this session is 230. The work of this forenoon will be carried on in three sections. The primary section will meet in room 11 of the Spring street school; the intermediate section, in room 8; and the grammar section, in room 10.

M. S. Snook deserves the thanks of the Institute for his most enjoyable music. It was thoroughly appreciated by the audience.

The Evening Entertainment.

The social reunion which took place at 8 o'clock in the Baptist Church was a great success. The church was comfortably filled by a very appreciative audience, mostly teachers, amongst which the ladies predominated. The programme was very select, and afforded those present great enjoyment. Messrs. Fanning, Booth, Pendleton and Manning sang "Come, rise with the Lark." They were much applauded, but could not be coaxed to an encore. The Heine Quartette then gave some operatic selections in their usual happiest style. Miss Fannie McClean, of Pasadena recited "A Green Mountain Justice," after which Mrs. Bosson favored the audience with "Bright Star of Love," with violin obligato by Miss L. Heine. The lady is so popular and well-known that it is needless to say she was rapturously applauded. As an encore she sang the Milkmaid's Song.

Mr. L. Heine followed in a flute solo, after which the 4 B's—Brason, Book, Booth and Bryant—sang the "Whippoorwill." Miss Lizzie Heine then gave a violin solo. "Aux Italiens" was a recitation by Miss Ada T. Eckert, teacher of elocution at the Los Angeles College for Young Ladies, which was thoroughly appreciated, and by special request she also delivered a humorous selection. The entertainment concluded with the "Swedish Wedding March," by the Heine Quartette.

To-Day's Work.

This morning's session is to be devoted to section work in the Spring-street school, as follows:

In the afternoon at the Baptist Church the following is the programme:

In the evening at 8 o'clock Supt. C. H. McGrew will lecture.

A DISCOURAGED RESTAURATEUR

Blows Out His Brains at Santa Monica.

Our watering resort was considerably excited yesterday, at the news of the suicide of Henry E. Lecrocq, a well-known restaurateur of that burg, formerly connected with the liquor firm of G. Lemesnager of this city. Mr. Lecrocq kept the Pic-nic Restaurant at Santa Monica. He has been suffering considerably of late years by reason of ill health, and lately appeared listless and discouraged. Troubles of a marital character furthermore made him feel out of sorts. On Sunday he hinted to Mr. Michaux, a friend from Los Angeles, that he contemplated doing away with himself, but, as in all such cases, but little attention was given to the subject. Yesterday morning his elder brother, Frederick, told him to get up and go to Los Angeles for medical treatment; that he ought to go to the French hospital and get attended to. This the deceased would not do. So at the first engine whistle, which is given at a quarter to seven, the brother went to James O'Neill's place to get O'Neill, who had some influence with deceased to come over and get him to come up. As O'Neill and Frederick entered the dining room they heard a shot up-stairs, and rushing up, found the deceased in kneeling attitude beside the bed, his head bowed down, and a very short carbine resting against his body and head. His face was powder-burned considerably, and blood flew out of a gaping wound over the left eyebrow. H. Girorin and Rev. Father Keegan, who immediately afterward arrived, laid him on the bed. Death had been instantaneous. No papers were found indicating the reason of his rash act. It is presumed that the deceased was not in his right mind at the time of the commission of the rash deed. Coroner McFarland held an inquest on the body that afternoon and the jury found a verdict of suicide whilst laboring under temporary insanity. Mr. Lecrocq was a native of France, Department of Seine, Inferieure, and aged 41 years. He leaves a wife, from whom he is separated, a brother and a sister, married to Ferdinand Vignes, the well-known vineyardist of Los Angeles city. The deceased was a member of the French and Italian Benevolent Societies, and of the K. of P., who will bury him to-day.

Historical Society of Southern California.

The monthly meeting of that Society was held in Judge Austin's court room.

J. C. Oliver presented the Society with the following articles procured at San Gabriel:

Five volumes of the surveys and explorations of 1853-5, to locate a railway route from the Mississippi to the Pacific Ocean, two of the volumes being contributed by Col. Warner. Three pieces of ancient Indian pottery and several stone implements.

The following additional articles were received by the Society: The petrified vertebra of a whale from the Encino ranch, by Robert White; also a petrified vertebra of a fish, by Angelos Benedict, from the same place; a copy of Report of the Nebraska State Historical Society; Vol. 6, of Catalogue of Boston Public Library: three Great Registers of Los Angeles county for the years of 1875, 1879 and 1880 respectively; a register of the University of California; a copy of the Opelousas Courier of 1863, by M. S. Hewes; a copy of Semi-Tropic California for 1882, and a pamphlet on the "Double Standard," by H. D. Barrows; the historical Record of Iowa for January, and a bound volume of the Morning Call of 1857 by Major Kinley. Prof. Redway read an able and interesting paper on the Mississippi river.

Orange Bulletin.

The Orange Growers' Protective Union issued the following bulletin yesterday:

"The demand for oranges and lemons is better now than at any time during this season. Oranges are scarcer in all markets. The weather is milder; hence the demand.

"Choice, bright oranges, sell readily at good prices. Chicago, St. Paul, St. Louis, Omaha and other points quote prices today at about the same as last week, as follows: Smutty, $1.50 to $2; choice, $2.25 to $2.50; fancy, $3 to $3.50; Navels, $4 to $5.

"The San Francisco market is not so full as formerly, and prices tend upward. The improvement was mainly on Los Angeles seedlings. Riverside oranges have been decaying rapidly of late, and, on this account, after being, in many cases, picked over, they have had to be sold at little or no improvement on former prices—$1.65 to $2.50."

Disgraceful Conduct.

On one of the cars which left Main street yesterday afternoon, between 2 and 3 o'clock, in the direction of Washington Gardens, there were three intoxicated women of the town who sang ribald songs and told obscene stories. They went so far as to pin the skirts of an old, inoffensive lady to the seat. The driver instead of putting them off or rebuking them seemed to enjoy the affair, at least, so a gentleman on the car stated.

Musical May Festival.

The chorus rehearsal of the May Festival took place at the Opera Hall last night, under the leadership of Prof. Stamm. Owing to the Flower Festival, which seems to be paramount in most peoples' minds, the attendance of the chorus was smaller than had been anticipated, only 60 singers being present.

REOPENED.

The Flower Festival in All Its Glory Again.

FRESH FLOWERS IN ALL THE BOOTHS.

The Procession Repeated with More Satisfactory Results—Songs—Presentations—Liberty Draped and Decorated.

The ladies of the Flower Festival Society and their sub-committees, and the humble servitors of the sub committees, worked yesterday with a will. Their task was to eliminate the wilted and faded flowers, and substitute for them a fresh, crisp lot, remaking the exhibit in every essential. Last evening the Festival took another lease of life, beginning its second week under the most favorable auspices. The attendance was as large as on any except the opening night.

THE EXERCISES.

The procession of Flora and her train took place again, and, owing to the fact that the aisles were kept free for the purpose, was much more effective than when first presented. The column, with the floral car, marched down the west aisle, countermarched and crossed to the east aisle, and returned to the stage.

The characters in the procession were as follows:

Ceres, Miss Bertie Bush; Proserpina, Miss Helen Widney; Echo, Miss Leila Edelman; Narcissus, Roy Koster; Wood Moss, Misses Spencer and Ford; Wild Flowers, Anna and Kate Widney, Lida Kellam, Mabel Chaffing, Miss Spencer, Grace Platt; Curetes, Clara and May Newton; Ferns, Mattie Widney, Beatrice Francisco, Ruth Green, Mary and Florence Crow, Fanny Holmes; Oreads, Grace Stewart, Mary Mills, Misses Kellam and Kimball, Lulu Chapin; Dryads, Mabel Brousseau, Ada Baxter and Miss Pease; Roses, Miss Woodhead, Ella Smith, Miss Frankenfield, Miss Newman, Jennie Levens, Miss Fitch; Grasses, Clara Severns, Belle Cook, Jennie Howard, Lillia Mewel, Kate Brousseau, Miss Metcalf; Summer Flowers, Neith Boyce, Lula Jorden, Mary Newell, Miss Egar, Miss Pease; Flora, Miss F. A. George; Columbia, Mrs. C. Prager; Venus, Miss Hartell; Aurora, Miss Wynnie Wells; Desire, Daisy Moore; Lore, Pussy Ferner; Sunlight, Miss Keifer; Shadow, Sadie Maxwell; Hebe, Miss Lutie Richardson; Pleasure, Miss Ida Newman; Summer, Miss McGee; Joy, Miss Alice Severns; Splendor, Miss Carson; Wonder, Rowenda Moore; Iris, Lillian Breed; Astæra, Miss Lenora Smith; Plenty, Miss Nellie Nettleton; Bachante, Miss Nettie Nettleton; Pomona, Miss Lulu Gibson; Butterflies, May and Belle Willey.

When the floral train had all been marshaled on the stage, Miss Bush sang Hail Columbia, while Miss Hartell as "Venus" and Miss Wynnie Wells as "Aurora," crowned Mrs. Prager, "Columbia," and draped her with the American colors. "Columbia" occupied a pedestal on the stage and was a commanding, noble figure. The tableau vivant was very effective.

Miss George then sang a verse of the Star Spangled Banner, after which Mrs. Ira More stepped to the front and, in behalf of Stanton Relief Corps, presented to the society a floral screen of beautiful design. Rev. M. M. Bovard responded for the President, Mrs. R. M. Widney. He said that the one thing which made the arduous labor of the ladies no labor at all was the appreciation which their work received. It was appropriate also for Stanton Post, which has so much to do with flowers in the decoration of graves of the noble dead, to present a floral piece to this society.

After the presentation, Miss George sang the concluding two stanzas of the Star Spangled Banner, winning hearty applause.

Some popular medleys played by the Seventh Infantry Band concluded the exercises of the evening.

THE NEWLY DECORATED BOOTHS.

Mrs. M. S. Baker, of the Variety Booth, solemnly avers that she sent out six bushel baskets full of dried flowers and leaves from her booth, replacing them with fresh. Among the displays there last night was a cross of Lamarque roses bordered with marigolds, double and single, and bedded in geranium leaves. There was also a beautiful rhododendron, a hibiscus, a basket formed of geraniums and dasies, double petunias grown by Mrs. M. G. McMullin, a pillow of pink, purple and veregated verbenas, a shield of alternate stripes of red geranium and white Laurestinus.

The pansy booth displayed an elegant piece in a cross of ferns bedded in pink geraniums. A scarlet star in a bed of yellow (wild) marguerites, was also very striking.

Boyle Heights booth displayed an elegant pillow of white flowers, with a scarlet "M. P." worked in the center.

The cut flower booth had an elegant case of Lamarques, pelargoniums and marigolds, a lyre of roses, geranium leaves and smilax, and a flag of white button roses and scarlet geraniums, and a field of purple verbenas.

The bulbous booth showed gladioli of many shades, flags, ranunculi, white lilies, anemones.

The button-hole booth was nicely freshened up. And, by the way, a suggestion from this booth is to the effect that, when ladies are offered bouquets by attentive gentlemen, they are not supporting the good cause of the society when they decline to receive them.

The special Rose Booth was aglow with the most beautiful specimens which have adorned the Festival.

The Tustin Booth was entirely renewed, and the fresh bed of pansies presented all the glories of the original spread. Mrs. Twombly, of Tustin, has sent to this booth on every alternate day from 90 to 100 distinct varieties of roses.

The Ventura Booth dispensed some choice grasses last night, and looked beautiful, as usual.

A new feature of the Festival last night was the pop-corn stand, in charge of Miss Grace Kealing and Miss Fannie Lewis.

The society is indebted to Mrs. John Johnes for a most generous contribution of flowers from day to day.

The Cheapest Fuel Yet.

The attention of the public of Los Angeles is called to something new and useful—the world's new fuel, or hydro-carbon gas, the invention of R. E. Burns, of San Francisco. By this invention you are enabled to convert water into gas, thereby making it a practical fuel whenever heat is required. This wonderful invention can be seen in full operation at 236 S. Main street. Mr. Burns is here for the purpose of leasing out the right of Southern California to use his invention. No doubt some enterprising man of this city will secure the right and give to the people the benefit of this cheap, clean and safe fuel. Go and see it.

Pomona, Los Angeles County, Cal., April 3, 1886.—For several years past my health was failing; and after consulting a physician my trouble was pronounced an ovarian tumor. I was then the subject of a consultation, and the result was I could only be cured by the knife. The doctors told me I stood one chance in ten of outliving the operation. Through an advertisement I found Mr. D. Wm. Dawson, and in five weeks he has cured me with his mode of treatment, he being a magnetic healer.
I feel great pleasure in giving this testimonial. Respectfully,

D. W. DAWSON—Dear Sir: For the benefit of those similarly afflicted, I desire to testify to the very great benefit I have received at your hands. On the 13th of February I was thrown from my buggy, and my back was badly sprained thereby. CATARRH.
To all those who are afflicted with any of the different forms of Catarrh we would say there is no disease which presents a greater diversity of symptoms—none more loathsome, insidious and dangerous than Nasal Catarrh, especially if complicated, as it almost always is, even from its first appearance, with an affection of the throat.
From the earliest symptoms (which are generally attributed to "cold in the head") to the various ugly and distressing stages through which the disease passes, the patient is hopeful of recovery, and rarely gives it proper attention until certain alarming symptoms present themselves, denoting unmistakably the rapid advance of the malady to the lungs. Indeed, so various are the symptoms that the presence of the disease is not always known, or even suspected, till it has reached the more advanced stages. The disease may or may not be attended by a discharge from the nostrils or the throat, but there is usually present a morbid secretion and a frequent disposition, especially in the morning, to clear the throat and the effort to do so is often, though not always, attended by expectoration; there is a sensation of heaviness in the frontal part of the head and the brain sometimes suffers to an extent producing headache, vertigo and confusion; it becomes difficult to think clearly and to concentrate the mind; the memory becomes impaired and the intellect enfeebled; despondency of spirits and an excitable condition of the nervous system. Such is the effect of the disease, and if to this train of symptoms (which not infrequently leads to insanity or idiocy) we add many of the more loathsome physical effects, as caries, or rottenness of the bones of the face and head, a most offensive smell to the breath, and corrupt, morbid and poisoned secretions, destruction or serious injury to the senses of smell, hearing, sight and taste, we have a catalogue of horrors which should lead any person to make early and proper efforts to eradicate the disease while it is in a curable stage.
Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.
I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless unless the disease has advanced to the chest and that both lungs are seriously involved. The Inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in contracting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.
CONSULTATION FREE.
Those who desire to consult with me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for consultation and examination, but if, impossible to do so, can write for a copy of my Medical Treatise, containing a list of questions. Address,

THE WEATHER.

SIGNAL SERVICE INDICATIONS.

By Telegraph to The Times.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6—8 p. m.—Indications for succeeding thirty-two hours: For California, continued cool, cloudy weather and occasional rains, variable winds, generally southerly, off coast.

LOCAL BULLETIN.

LOS ANGELES SIGNAL OFFICE, April 6, —At 4:07 a. m. to-day the thermometer registered 45; at 12:07 p. m. 51, and at 7:07 p. m. 56. Barometer for corresponding periods, 29.91, 29.91, 29.84. Maximum temperature, 62.0; minimum, 44.3. Weather at 7:07 p. m., fair.

IF you want to hear things grow after this warm rain, just put your ear to the ground and listen.

WASHINGTON CITY wants one million dollars for street and sewer improvements. Washington believes in going ahead. It's a good purpose to tie to.

MONEY is represented as plenty throughout the East, and the banks are not finding it the easiest matter in the world to make loans at profitable rates.

IF East Los Angeles carries out the extensive system of street improvements there projected, it will soon be voted the most delightful suburb of the city.

COUNCIL yesterday approved the contract for paving Spring street in front of the city property. With that block laid Los Angeles makes a seven-league stride for improvement.

THE rain at this time is a questionable blessing for the farmers. The tendency of much wet weather will be to lodge and rust grain. Fruit-farmers will neither be benefited nor damaged to any great extent.

THE monument fiend expects to be able to raise about $150,000 to perpetuate the memory of the "loyalty and devotion" of the late Vice-President Hendricks. The m. f. is a purveyor of news.

SAN DIEGO, by the census just about completed, claims a population of 6200. The Sun maintains that the figures have doubled within a year, and sets the stakes at 10,000 by the first of January, 1887. Building is active, and business on a boom.

TUESDAY'S active municipal contest in Santa Barbara resulted in the reelection of George W. Coffin to mayoralty, over several other candidates, one of whom is a clown and another a fraud and a beat. The people of Santa Barbara did well to select the better timber.

C. P. HUNTINGTON has finally decided that, after all, he cannot entertain the proposition of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé for two California pools. "A single pool," he said, "was necessary for justice to his roads." This ends all pending negotiations for the settlement of the rate war.

THE people of the Southern States without any prohibitive political organizations, are making more rapid advances in temperance than in those of any other section of the country. They reach by "local option" and high license what it would be impossible to accomplish by other methods.

THE APACHES.

The Prisoners to be Sent to Fort Marion, Fla.

Special Dispatch to The Times.

FORT BOWIE, A. T., April 6.—The Chiricahua Apaches who surrendered to Gen. Crook March 29, and arrived here April 3, in charge of Lieut. Maus, will be sent to Fort Marion, St. Augustine, Florida, as prisoners of war. The squaws and children go too, making seventy-six in all. Company E, Eighth Infantry, go as a guard, under command of Lieut. J. R. Richards, Fourth Cavalry. The prisoners are giving a grand dance to-night at their camp, as a farewell to Gen. Crook's Chiricahua scouts. The prisoners know that they are going away, but don't know where. They take it very philosophically. Chihuahua told Gen. Crook to-day that wherever he sent him it was all right, but he hoped he would not suffer imprisonment too long, because he would lose a wagon he had at the reservation.

Santiago McKinn, their eleven-year-old white captive, was sent home today. He would not leave the camp with a white man, and had to be brought into the fort by Chiricahuas. He bawled loudly when told that he was to be taken back to his parents, and said he always wanted to stay with the Indians. LUM.

THE DEADLY DRUG.

A California Girl's Death in Chicago From Smoking Opium.

CHICAGO, April 6.—Jennie Woods, a handsome woman of twenty, was taken from an opium den here yesterday, and died soon afterward from the effects of smoking, as it is declared, ten pipes of the deadly opiate. Her husband, Solin H. Woods, a travelling agent for an electric light company, was in New York at the time. It is stated that she went out with a medical student and accompanied him to the den kept by a Chinaman named Sam Lee and his white wife, both of whom were arrested last night. She left there with her male companion, who succeeded in getting her to her room, where she died before a physician could be summoned. Her companion has disappeared. Her identity has not been made clear, but it is stated that she is from California, where her parents are now supposed to live. Her maiden name was Jennie H. Reynolds. One result of her death was the raiding of three opium joints last night and the arrest of thirty inmates in a basement at the corner of Charles Place and West Van Buren street. Am Yuh, the proprietor, and five white visitors were found, among whom was Pat Kelley, an escaped convict from San Quentin, Cal. Three others are described as "crooks" from California, who first learned the habit among the Chinese dens of San Francisco.

The Cincinnati Election.

CINCINNATI, April 6.—With six precincts of the city not heard from, the majority of Eschelby, Republican, for Comptroller over Schwab, Democrat, is 7095; that of Hess, Republican, for City Infirmary over Armstrong, Democrat, is 3405. These represent the extremes. Both branches of the Common Council and Board of Education have a Republican majority.

A Mining Superintendent Killed.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—The Call's Guaymas, Mexico, special this evening says: C. S. Benham, Superintendent of the Copper Queen Mining Company at Cananea, Sonora, was shot dead at Hermosillo to-day by his coachman, Fred. Sweet. The murderer was arrested. No cause is assigned. Mrs. Benham is prostrated by the event.

High License at Hollister.

HOLLISTER, Cal., April 6.—The Board of Town Trustees passed a high-license ordinance last night, fixing the retail liquor license at $600 per annum, payable in advance, and requiring a bond of $2000. The ordinance was passed by a vote of 3 to 2.

The Rainfall.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 6.—Rain fell at intervals throughout the day. It is still raining to-night. Reports from interior points show that it has been raining all along the coast as far south as Santa Barbara. No rain is reported from San Joaquin valley points to-day.

WASHINGTON.

Chinese Treaties as Viewed by Cleveland.

GOODE'S PAN-ELECTRIC INNOCENCE.

Vilas in the Role of a Postal Pooh-Bah—Proceedings in the Senate and House.

Associated Press Dispatches to The Times.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The Senate received from the President to-day a long message transmitting the correspondence between the Secretary of State and the Chinese Minister, in regard to the treaty rights of Chinese subjects, other than laborers, to go and come of their own free will and accord. The President says that cases of individual hardship beyond the power of the Executive to remedy, have occurred in the application of the Chinese acts, which are due to the ambiguous and defective provisions of acts of Congress. Hardship has, in some cases, been remedied by the courts, but in others, where the phraseology has appeared to the Executive against any discretion on the part of the officers Chinese persons expressly entitled to free admission under the treaty have been refused a landing, and have been sent back to the country whence they came without being afforded an opportunity to show their right. The act of July 5th, 1884, the President says, imposes an impossible condition in not providing for the admission, under proper conditions, of Chinese travelers of the exempted class in cases most likely to arise in ordinary commercial intercourse, for the somewhat numerous class of Chinese persons who, retaining Chinese subjection in some countries other than China, desire to come from such countries to the United States. A complaint of the Chinese Minister is that Lay Sang, of the house of King, Lee & Co., of San Francisco, having arrived at San Francisco from Hong Kong and exhibited the certificate of the United States Consul at Hong Kong as to his status as a merchant and consequent exception under the treaty, was refused permission to land and was sent back to Hong Kong by the steamer which brought him. It is to be remembered, the President says, that there is at Hong Kong no representation of the government of China competent or authorized to issue the certificate required by the statute. "The intent of Congress to legislate in the execution of the treaty," the President says, "is thus defeated by a prohibition directly contrary to the treaty and the conditions are exactly those which, in the words of the Supreme Court, in it was 'physically impossible to perform.' This anomalous feature should be reformed as speedily as possible, in order that the recurrence of such cases may be avoided, and the imputation removed which would otherwise rest on the good faith of the United States in the execution of their solemn treaty engagement."

XLIX CONGRESS—FIRST SESSION.

Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—In the Senate Mr. Plumb presented the petition of an association of colored citizens of Kansas, praying for assistance to emigrate to Africa with a view of there building up another United States republic.

Mr. Plumb said that he understood that there was a strong determination on the part of the petitioners to carry out the emigration scheme referred to.

The petition was referred.

Mr. Blair reported favorably, without amendment, from the Committee on Education and Labor, the Arbitration bill recently passed by the House of Representatives.

The consideration of the Army bill was resumed, and Mr. Logan spoke in favor of it.

Mr. Hale opposed the bill.

Mr. Manderson supported the bill.

The Chair laid before the Senate a message from the President relating to the subject of Chinese immigration. The message was read and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations.

After an executive session the Senate adjourned.

House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—In the House Mr. Phelps of New Jersey, from Committee on Foreign Affairs, reported a resolution calling on the Secretary of State for copies of all correspondence between his department and the representatives of France, Germany, Austria and any other European countries which have partially or entirely restricted the importation of American pork, referring to the facts of such exclusion or restriction and the reasons given for the same. Adopted.

Among the petitions presented were a large number from local assemblies of Knights of Labor throughout the country, protesting against the passage of the Free Ship bill. Referred.

The House returned to the consideration of the bill to secure the equitable classification and compensation of certain officers of the United States. Pending action the morning hour expired. Then there was a prospect of a struggle for the right of way between the Silver and the Postoffice Appropriation bill, but, in the interest of the transaction of business, Mr. Bland, of Missouri, gave way, and the House went into committee of the whole on the Postoffice Appropriation bill.

Mr. Bingham, of Pennsylvania, offered an amendment increasing from $4,800,000 to $4,890,000 the appropriation for the pay of postal clerks. Lost—54 to 97.

Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, offered an amendment increasing the appropriation for the transportation of foreign mails from $375,000 to $425,000.

Mr. Phelps of New Jersey favored the amendment. What good, he asked, had come of the foreign mail provision in the Postoffice Appropriation bill of last year? American ships did not carry the foreign mail. The policy of the Mikado had entered the Cabinet. In the Postoffice Department was found the "Pooh-Bah" of an administration which sat there, not only as the Postmaster General, but as President of the United States and as Congress, so that whatever Congress passed, he, by triple assurance, could defeat; because, as Postmaster General he could refuse to execute its wishes; as President of the United States he could veto it, and, as Congress of the United States, he could defeat it—and there was no redress for that.

Mr. Holman, of Indiana, defended the Postmaster General. No public officer had ever acted more prudently and wisely than the Postmaster General in refusing to expend money at the dictation of the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

Mr. Randall also sustained the action of the Postmaster General, and thought that both sides of the House should approve of the wise discretion he had exercised.

Mr. Blount, of Georgia, suggested that the gentleman from New Jersey ought not to place the blame of his own failure in the late campaign upon the shoulders of a clergyman.

The amendment was lost—82 to 109.

The committee then rose, and the bill was passed.

The House then adjourned.

GUILELESS GOODE.

His Childlike Innocence of Pan-Electric Convolutions.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Solicitor-General Goode was before the Pan-Electric investigating committee again to-day, and on cross-examination by Mr. Ranney, stated that he was not aware of using any undue or unusual haste in ordering the suit against the Bell Company; nor had he given any thought to the motives of the attorney who offered to appear in the suit without compensation from the government. If he had known of the Attorney-General's connection with the Pan-Electric Company, and an application for the suit had been made, his action would have been the same as it was.

"Didn't it occur to you," asked Mr. Rappey, "that the Bell patents had been the subject of many decisions of courts, and had withstood all charges of fraud, and that this was a pretty late day to set up fraud?"

"No," replied the witness firmly.
